VACANCY NOT EVEN DISCUSSED

Senator Penrose and Gov. Pennypacker Had No Conversation About Successor.

ANDREWS NOT A CANDIDATE

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

GREENSBURG, PA., July 13.—Those expecting Governor S. W. Pennypacker and Senator Boies Penrose to give any attention to the filling of the vacancy caused by the death of Frank M. Fuller, secretary of the commonwealth, were disappointed. They spent the day together, but the question was not discussed.

Both the governor and the senator thought it very bad taste to even consider the filling of the vacancy today. Governor Pennypacker expressed himself very clearly on the matter during the day. Tonight the senator and governor returned to Harrisburg. Governor Pennypacker retired before his special reached here at 10 o'clock. Senator Penrose said:

"I have not discussed the vacancy with the governor today, and do not intend to. I have not given the appointment any consideration; not even to the extent of reaching a decision as to whether I think the place should go to the east or west. I am of the opinion the governor has not given the matter a thought."

Senator Penrose and the governor will meet. It is probable the conference will occur early next week. Several names are being generally discussed. Among the number is former Lieutenant Governor Walter Lyon of Pittsburgh, ex-State Treasurer James S. Beacom of Greensburg, Senator Henry H. Cummings of Warren and Representative Bryan H. Osborne of Venango.

This evening J. V. Thompson entertained a party of the state officials and others at dinner at his pretty home in Uniontown. The guests were Governor Pennypacker, Senator Penrose, Banking Commissioner McAfee, James M. Shumaker, superintendent of buildings and grounds; Factory Inspector J. C. Delaney, Col. Beitler and Chief Clerk Thorn of the state department, E. C. Dewey of the treasury department and John R. Byrne of Scottdale.

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—State Chairman W. R. Andrews was asked today what basis there was for the association of his name with the vacancy caused by the death of Frank M. Fuller, secretary of the commonwealth.

"I am not a candidate for the position, never thought of it and do not believe my name has been considered in connection with the appointment. My duties as state chairman will very fully occupy my time, and it could hardly be expected that I would abandon my post at the very outset of a campaign. Certainly I would not do so unless convinced that such a change would be in the interest of the Republican organization of the state. Individual advantage would have no influence so far as I am concerned."

KING LEOPOLD AND MR. MORGAN TALK FINANCE

LONDON, July 13.—King Leopold of Belgium came to Dover from Ostend today for the purpose of seeing J. Pierpont Morgan, who lunched with his majesty on board the latter's yacht. After a prolonged interview Mr. Morgan returned to London. It is reported his meeting with the king of the Belgians concerned the financing of important schemes for the development of the Belgian Littoral.

President Cassatt's Yacht Wrecked.

BAR HARBOR, MAINE, July 13.—(Special.)—President A. J. Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad, while cruising this afternoon in the yacht Seud, had his mast carried away, but suffered no serious mishap, as a launch was near at hand and towed him into the harbor. Mr. Cassatt was at the wheel when the mast was snapped by a sudden squall.

EMPEROR'S VISIT MAY LEAD TO AN ALLIANCE

Germany Is Likely to Support Sweden in Her Contentions With Norwegian Neighbors.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

STOCKHOLM, July 13.—The Associated Press is able to state on good authority that a German-Swedish alliance is seriously contemplated.

The question, it is said, was discussed at conferences between Emperor William and King Oscar on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern at Gefle today. The conference lasted from two to three hours. King Oscar and his party will remain with Emperor William until he departs from Gefle Friday afternoon.

Beside Emperor William's personal visit Germany will soon make the greatest naval demonstration in its history in Swedish waters. On July 20 six battleships will arrive at Gothenburg and eight cruisers at Uddevalla, while on August 3, seven battleships, ten cruisers and a torpedo boat squadron is due at Stockholm and Norrkoeping and five battleships at Karlskrona. The government has granted these squadrons permission to enter war ports.

MR. LAUDER GETS HOME WITH TROPHY OF RACE

Well Satisfied With Conditions of the Kaiser's Yacht Race and His Success.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 13.—Completing her voyage through moderate seas and fog in five days, 22 hours and 12 minutes from Cherbourg, the Deutschland of the Hamburg-American line brought back to the American shore many persons of prominence today.

Returning from the ocean yacht race for the trophies offered by the German kaiser, George Lauder, owner of the schooner Endymion, was a pasenger and brought back with him the fourth prize, a huge porcelain vase. The vase is two feet in height, two and a half feet the longest way of the oval and 18 inches across. Mr. Lauder expressed himself as being perfectly satisfied with all the arrangements for the start and finish of the race, and only regretted that his yacht was not first over the line.

W. E. Corey, president of the United States Steel Corporation, who has been abroad for four months, was also on board.

CONSCIENCE IN THE WAY.

Secretary Bonaparte Tells Why He Will Not Accept Free Railroad Transportation.

BALTIMORE, MD., July 13.—(Special.)—Secretary of the Navy Charles J. Bonaparte, in an interview today, defined his position on returning railroad passes. Mr. Bonaparte refused to criticise those who do accept such transportation, laughingly saying that was a matter of individual views.

For himself, however, he was very positive that he could not, in conscience, accept transportation from railroads and at the same time occupy his present important position.

PANAMA, July 13.—On the recommendation of Col. William C. Gorgas, chief sanitary officer of the canal zone, the quarantine against La Boca, in consequence of the discovery of cases of the bubonic plague, will be removed from noon of July 15.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Gen. Horace Porter, former ambassador to France and more recently the senior special American ambassador appointed to receive the body of John Paul Jones, returned home today on the steamer Deutschland.

P. R. R. CUTS OUT WABASH SWITCH

Connection Between West Side Belt and Panhandle in West End Torn Away at Night.

REVEALS THE OLD HOSTILITY

That hostility rages as fiercely as ever between the Wabash and the Pennsylvania interests, and that the powerful Pennsylvania does not propose to allow its new rival any more foothold in Pittsburgh than it can prevent, was shown with the coming of daylight yesterday. In the night a force of Pennsylvania employes had torn out the connection between the West Side Belt and the Panhandle tracks in the West End. A stretch of switch, costing probably $75,000, and about three-quarters of a mile long, was rendered absolutely useless. The ruined connection is only a few rods east of the Panhandle crossing over Main street, West End.

A couple of years ago, when the West Side Belt was still an independent line, it secured the consent of the Panhandle to make a connection, and built the line on the hillside above its Sawmill run branch to reach the Panhandle tracks. This was to be a temporary connection. Some heavy grading and filling and costly side-hill work had to be done to make the connection. It is said that only a verbal agreement for this switch was made, a contract being promised for later delivery on a permanent line.

Work Was Done Well and Fast.

Late Wednesday night, after all the work on the West Side Belt was over for the day and the courts had adjourned, preventing any legal action being taken, a large force of gravel train men of the Panhandle were taken to the point where the connection had been established. They tore up about three rail lengths at the point of connection, removed half of the ties and tore up the remainder. They cleaned out the switch track back as far as the right of way of the West Side Belt.

F. M. FULLER LAID TO REST

Simple Ceremony Marks Last Rites Over Secretary of Commonwealth.

GOVERNOR PRESENT

Senator Penrose and Other Prominent Officials Follow the Remains to the Grave.

MANY LOVING REMEMBRANCES

Special Telegram From WALTER J. CHRISTY, Staff Correspondent.

UNIONTOWN, PA., July 13.—Scores of men prominent in public life gathered in Uniontown today to pay a last tribute to Frank M. Fuller, the dead secretary of state. His had been a simple life and simplicity marked his funeral services.

Gathered at his bier were Gov. Samuel W. Pennypacker, United States Senator Penrose and 50 other men whose names are more or less prominent in public life in Pennsylvania. With them were hundreds of residents of Fayette. They had known Mr. Fuller well; fought through numerous fierce political contests and had his confidence. He was a friend they had turned to when in need of aid and had ever found him ready to assist. There was real mourning in Uniontown today. On every hand one often heard: "We'll miss Frank." That simple expression tells much. He will be missed in many ways. The boys of the Keystone fire company were on guard at the grave. One was asked if Mr. Fuller had been a member. The answer was: "No, but he was always willing to help when we needed assistance. We'll miss him."

Buried in Oak Grove.

Mr. Fuller was buried on a gentle slope in Oak Grove cemetery. Around his grave rise the monuments erected to men who have had much to do with making the history of Fayette county. In their day they had held much the same position in public life that the dead secretary enjoyed. The grave filled today is the second in the Fuller lot. Beside the secretary is the resting place of his brother, William.

There was little business done in Uniontown this afternoon. All the hotels were closed from 4 until 6 o'clock and many of the business houses paid tribute to the memory of Secretary Fuller. The courts and all the public offices were closed. The entire Bar association marched at the head of the funeral procession.

The body did not lie in state. The family insisted on having the services as simple as possible. This morning Gov. Pennypacker and Senator Penrose, accompanied by Col. Lewis W. Beitler, deputy secretary of state, called at the Fuller residence to pay their respects to Mrs. Fuller. At 2 o'clock this afternoon the other state officials visited the house and were given an opportunity to say farewell to the secretary. Before the services were held at 4 o'clock the public was admitted to the house. One needed to but see that long line of people to know how popular Mr. Fuller had been.

Many Floral Tributes.

The body was inclosed in a handsome bronze casket. On the plate was inscribed: "Frank M. Fuller, 1852-1905." The coffin was placed in the parlor of the Fuller residence. The room was banked with floral offerings from the United States senators, the governor, every member of the cabinet, from the employes of the state department, from the local officials and from a host of men and women in Uniontown.

The services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. A. S. Milholland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Uniontown, assisted by the Rev. Dr. H. F. King, pastor of the Baptist church of Uniontown. Dr. Milholland preached a simple funeral sermon. He did not attempt to eulogize the dead secretary. It had been the wish of Mrs. Fuller no eulogy be pronounced. In this she was doing what Mr. Fuller would have requested. The music was furnished by a choir consisting of Miss Susan Brooke, Miss Patty Brooke, Mrs. Searight Marshall, Dr. Mil-

ROBERTS IS ANSWERED BY PREMIER BALFOUR

Says England's Preparedness for War Depends on Conscription or Universal Training.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, July 12.—In the house of commons tonight Premier Balfour referred to the speech of Field Marshal Lord Roberts in the house of lords Monday last, in which the latter said the armed forces of Great Britain as a body were absolutely unfitted and unprepared for war, and declared emphatically that the choice lay between conscription or some practical system of universal training.

The premier, however, said he could never be led to believe that conscription could be successfully adopted in England.

Mr. Robertson asked Premier Balfour whether there had been any further representations in regard to the international conference proposed by President Roosevelt and whether the government was prepared to agree to the president's proposal to include in the subjects for discussion the question of making private property not contraband of war free from capture or destruction, and the premier replied that there had not been any further negotiations on the subject.

MINT OFFICIALS BUY GOLD THAT WAS STOLEN

Thief Robs His Employers and Sells the Product of Theft to the Government.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—(Special.)—Uncle Sam was shown as a receiver of stolen goods, although unknowingly, in the arrest of Israel Andress, a gold worker, who, in confessing to stealing $600 worth of gold scraps, told how he disposed of his booty to the United States mint.

Andress was employed as a watch case turner by the Keystone Watch Case Company for the last 18 years. Owing to the close scrutiny which is kept on the gold received and turned out, the company is able to tell almost to the penny the amount of gold which should thus be found in the waste each month. In the last eight months a marked decrease was noted, although the factory was as busy as ever. Andress was finally placed under surveillance, and today was arrested with the charge against him. His denial was immediate and emphatic. But when he was afterward taken into the detective headquarters in City hall he broke down and confessed.

ANOTHER MURDER MYSTERY.

Massachusetts Has a Peculiar Crime to Be Solved at Belmont Golf Links.

BELMONT, MASS., July 13.—The body of an unknown woman about 30 years of age was found today by a farmhand in a gully on the Arlington golf links near Belmont. The head had been nearly severed from the body and numerous other injuries indicated beyond question that a murder had been committed.

The woman was killed about 75 yards from the place where her body was found, and dragged to the gully. The police found near the spot a man's cap and part of a watch chain, but no other traces of the identity of the murderer.

JAMES W. ALEXANDER IS NOW SERIOUSLY SICK

NEW YORK, July 13.—(Special.)—James W. Alexander, former president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, is very ill. He is undergoing treatment in a secluded place in Long Island and it was said today he is in such a condition that all knowledge of the recent developments in the society have been kept from him.

To Represent State Senate.

GREENSBURG, PA., July 13.—Senator Cyrus E. Woods, president pro tem. of the senate of Pennsylvania, this morning appointed the Philadelphia delegation of senators with Hon. John N. Scott, chairman, to attend the funeral of state senator Horatio B. Hackett, who died in Pasadena, California, yesterday.

SELECT PASSES HUMP MEASURE

Director Bigelow Hears Some Plain Tales While Battle Is in Progress.

BURNS' FIERY SPEECH

Says Whole Thing Is Scheme of Real Estate Speculators Conceived Years Ago.

NOW READY FOR THE MAYOR

Director Bigelow—Ten years ago I took Eugene M. O'Neill upon the hump and out Fifth avenue beyond the hump. I showed him store after store, the windows plastered with playbills, and when you find windows filled with playbills you may be sure that property is away down and going lower. I showed him how that property would become valuable if the hump was removed.

Councilman R. B. Burns—This movement to remove the hump is conceived and engineered in the interest of real estate speculators; it is the endeavor of members of the city administration to make good with the friends whom they induced to buy property beyond the hump, on the promise that the hump would come down. This movement to buy property beyond the hump for speculation began, as Director Bigelow has told you, 10 years ago.

Councilman J. W. Ruhlandt—He (Councilman William E. Lang of the Thirty-first ward) says that personally he is opposed to the hump, but he thinks the people ought to be allowed to vote on it. They voted on it last year; they will vote on it again this year; they may be asked to vote on it next year, the year after and so on. He knows that the people of the city will never vote for this bond issue; he knows that the people of his ward are opposed to it.

Councilman W. H. Weber—The people of my ward believe that Director Bigelow erred in his estimate of the cost of the Grant boulevard; they believe that he erred in the estimate of the cost of the hump removal. We are told the removal will result in an increase of valuation. The valuation of the city has steadily increased, yet today property on the South Side is worth less than it was a few years ago, and taxes are higher.

The statements quoted above were made in select council yesterday. Although one made by Director Bigelow was considered to have unveiled the whole intent and scope of the hump removal agitation, select council, nevertheless, passed the hump bond ordinance finally, so that all that remains is for the mayor to approve it. It is a foregone conclusion that the mayor will do so, for it was after a visit to the mayor's office that James M. Fullerton, a common councilman, the other day went back on his record and did his best to have the hump ordinance go through the branch of councils to which he belongs. It was rumored that the mayor was in such a hurry that he waited until after select council adjourned to sign the bill, but that was a mistake, as the city clerk's office first has some routine work to do before the ordinance is ready for the mayor.

Burns Makes Fiery Speech.

Director Bigelow's remark quoted above, was the clincher which proved to Dr. H. P. Burns that his suspicions of a gigantic land speculation were justified, and he seized the opportunity to make a fiery speech, full of information, which exposed the whole hump scheme. Dr. Burns showed that land speculators have bought up property from Vine to Dinwiddie street and on this side of Vine street, intending to profit by the removal of the hump at the expense of all the taxpayers; that the big speculators are already asking rents based either on the value which the property will have after the hump has been removed or on the increased price they have had to pay because of the hump agitation, and that storekeepers are preparing to go out of business because of the high rent.

The special session of select council was called for 3 p. m., but it was 4 o'clock before a quorum could be obtained. The opponents of the scheme to rush the hump ordinance through without first giving full information to the public first stayed away with the object of preventing a quorum, until Dr. W. D. O'Brien, a Bigelow adherent came in and made up the quorum, when they filed in, taking part in the deliberations.

Did Not Read Waivers.

The hump ordinance as passed by common council, was read and P. J. Barry moved that the rules be suspended and the ordinance placed on second reading. The yeas and nays were not called on the motion to suspend the rules, and President J. S. Wightman decided that the motion was carried by a viva voce vote. According to the program agreed upon with Director Bigelow, Samuel J. Wainwright, Jr., asked that the damage waivers submitted to common council be brought in. None of the waivers was read. William E. Lang said he purposed to prepare an amendment to the ordinance calling for a bond issue of $2,000,000, $1,000,000 to be used to build a tunnel under Mt. Washington, for the benefit of the residents on the hilltops. He and the people of his ward were opposed to the ordinance, yet he thought the people ought to have a chance to vote on it.

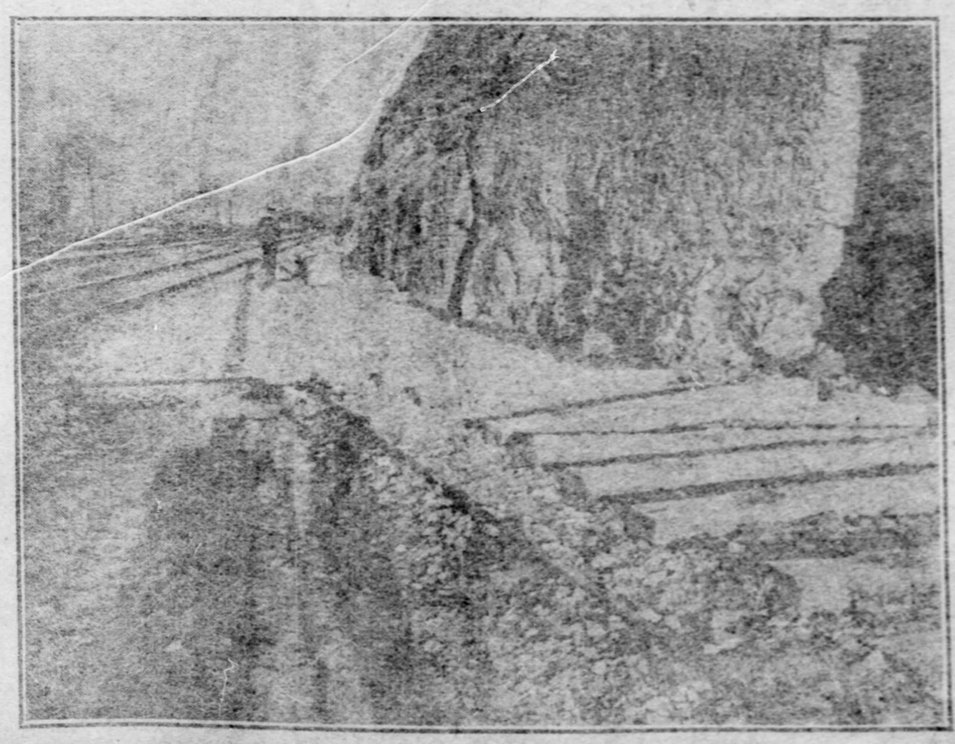
J. W. Ruhlandt scornfully intimated that Lang had waited with his proposed tunnel amendment until he knew it was too late to have it inserted. The ordinance had been voted on once by the people; it was to be voted on again, and if defeated its sponsors would no doubt ask that it be put before the people next year, and perhaps the year after. "He (Mr. Lang) knows that the people are not for this proposition to remove the hump at the expense of the taxpayers, he knows the people of his ward are against it," said Ruhlandt.

Director Makes Another Speech.

Mr. Wainwright, desirous that Director Bigelow's eloquence be used to sway the councilmen again asked about the grades and the depth of the cut to be made in the hump district, and consented that Director Bigelow be called on to explain.

The director took advantage of H

WABASH-PENNSYLVANIA WAR BREAKS OUT AGAIN



The photograph shows the demolished track in the West End, where the Panhandle tore out the West Side Belt connection.

Frick's presence on the Atlantic ocean to repeat the exploded myth that Frick intends to build a 70-story hotel in Sixth avenue, between Cherry alley and Grant street, and said the Mellons were trying to buy the square bounded by Grant, Fifth and Webster avenues. He went over all the hump figures previously told to the finance committee on its trip through the hump district.

Councilman Louis H. Frederick asked if the time limit mentioned in H. C. Frick's waiver of damages was not too short. The director said he did not think so, but even if the work were not finished within the time specified by Frick, Frick could not recover damages, for he would not be damaged.

Dr. Weber arose and looking straight at Director Bigelow, said:

"Director, the people of my ward feel that you erred once and that you may err again."

"When did I err, Dr. Weber" asked Bigelow.

"In making an estimate on the cost of the Grant boulevard."

Blames McCandless and Wilson.

"I did not err, Doctor," said the director. "I let the contract for less than the estimate of the cost, but later I was put out of office, and a doctor and a grocer's clerk (Dr. J. Guy McCandless and George S. Wilson, former directors of the department of public works) finished the job, and it was under them that the cost of the boulevard was made so great."

Men who were spoken to yesterday about this statement of the director's, and they were not Mr. Wilson nor Dr. McCandless, remembered that a year before Bigelow was retired from office C. H. Stengel, then a councilman, predicted on the floor of common council that the Grant boulevard would cost $1,000,000, although the director's estimate was only a little more than $827,000, and that on the day Bigelow was ousted from office by councils it was admitted on the floor that the cost of the Grant boulevard was then already about $860,000, and would be eventually much more.

Dr. Weber went on to say that it was unfair to expect the South Side to vote for bonds that were to be issued at the expense of the taxpayers. The South Siders were told that the removal of the hump would increase the valuation of the property on the hump; the valuation of city property had been much increased recently, yet property on the South Side was worth less now and taxes were higher than some years ago.

Opposes Aiding Speculators.

In advocating the removal of the hump Director Bigelow told of taking Eugene M. O'Neil up Fifth avenue 16 years ago and showing him the hump and the property beyond. On that occasion, he said, he explained to Mr. O'Neil, who, men inferred from what Bigelow said, was at that time somewhat skeptical how the property would increase in value if the hump were taken down. This gave Dr. R. B. Burns his cue.

"Property has already increased in value," said Dr. Burns. "I can take Director Bigelow up into my ward (Eleventh) now and can show him playbills in the windows of the stores. The storekeepers today on Fifth avenue between Wine and Duquesne streets make no profit because of the high rents charged them for those stores. They can't stay in business. Speculators have bought the property on the assumption that the hump is to be removed without expense to them, and that their holdings will be largely increased in value. We are told the removal of the hump will be a public improvement. It is not a question of public improvement. If it were, it has once been repudiated by the people, who do not want the so-called improvement, and it is now nothing but a gigantic real estate speculation. Men bought property on the hump and beyond the hump, and they will make no improvements, because they are waiting for their property to be immensely increased in value at the expense of the taxpayers. This movement is conceived and engineered in the interest of real estate speculators; it is the endeavor of members of the city administration to make good their promises to friends that the hump would come down. It is a long-cherished plan. It began, as the director has just told you, 10 years ago, and has culminated in this scheme to make profitable a gigantic land speculation. I am opposed to lending the credit of Pittsburgh to make money for speculators."

How the Members Voted.

The ordinance was on second reading. A vote was taken, the result being as follows:

Ayes—P. J. Barry, J. J. Booth, John Casserly, John Costello, E. J. Edwards, Frederick Fichtel, Max Friedman, C. J. Gallagher, Thomas J. Hawkins, Peter Herriott (who is interested in large property interests just at the edge of the hump), John Hogue, W. E. Lang, William McKelvy, Dr. W. H. McKelvy, Dr. W. D. O'Brien, William Schemmp, E. A. Sweeney, Samuel J. Wainwright, Jr., Dr. E. R. Waites, Charles H. West and President Wightman—21.

Noes—T. H. Burns, L. H. Frederick, J. W. Rahlandt, John Howarth, L. P. Schneider, F. F. Toole, Dr. W. H. Weber and P. A. Manion.

This vote carried the ordinance past second reading. The rules were then suspended and the measure placed on third reading and final passage, the vote being 24 to 5. Three men who voted no on second reading changed their votes to ayes on final passage. They were John Howarth, L. H. Frederick and P. A. Manion. Thus the ordinance was passed finally.

Then the temporary sop thrown to the South Side councilmen to induce them to vote for the hump bond issue was brought out again. The resolution adopted by common council appointing a committee from select and common councils to open negotiations for the purchase of the Monongahela Water Company's plant was introduced and adopted, President Wightman appointing P. J. Barry and John Costello on the committee. The resolution appointing a committee to negotiate for the Pennsylvania Water Company's plant in the Thirty-seventh ward was passed, Charles H. West and Frederick Fitchel being appointed. President Wightman did not have to cudgel his brains for the names of committeemen; somebody had already made the selections and the names were on a slip of paper, which the city clerk handed up, and Mr. Wightman obediently read. Frederick Fitchel said the Thirty-eighth ward was in the same position as the Thirty-seventh, and he thought the plant of the company supplying the Thirty-eighth ward should be bought. President Wightman told him he could amend the Pennsylvania Water Company resolution in committee to include the water plant in the Thirty-eighth ward.

BARON ROSEN IS NOW INSTALLED

President's Speech Got Lost, but Presentation Passed Off Smoothly Nevertheless.

APPOINTMENT A GOOD ONE

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 13.—"Mr. president, I beg to present the recall of Ambassador Cassini and to introduce myself as his successor."

"I am very glad to see you, Baron, take a seat."

The above was about what was said between Baron Rosen and President Roosevelt when the former presented his credentials at Sagamore Hill, according to the statements given out by the president's secretary.

The presentation of Baron Rosen to the president of the United States was one of the most unique incidents in diplomatic annals. When an ambassador is credited to this or any other country he sends to the department of foreign affairs a copy of his speech in advance. To the United States this speech is handed over to the state department, which prepares an answer and submits it to the president. The usual formalities were exchanged for the presentation of Baron Rosen. But, at the last moment, there were no speeches. Nobody knows what became of them.

In the morning the president's secretary, after telegraphing to Washington for Mr. Roosevelt's speech, gave out the information that Third Assistant Secretary Peirce, who was coming with Baron Rosen, had it in his pocket. But when the Russian ambassador and Mr. Peirce landed from the Sylph at noon they brought no speeches. Baron Rosen's guard of honor at the landing consisted of Archie Roosevelt, who was throwing pebbles in the sea in the face of a thunderstorm. At the top of the sea bank the visitors found the president's carriage. At Sagamore Hill the official introduction passed off without a word beyond the ordinary greetings of courtesy.

There is no explanation of the loss of the official speeches except that someone in the state department blundered. The president's secretary had three or four contradictory explanations to offer and finally said that Russian ambassadors never made speeches on presentation anyway. In another statement he intimated that Baron Rosen at the last minute was afraid to say anything on the ground that it might stir up Japan and embarrass the president.

The ceremony over the president introduced Ambassador Rosen to Gov. Beekman Winthrop, of Porto Rico, and Chief Justice Edward C. Kent, of Arizona, who were his guests. Soon afterward luncheon was announced.

Ambassador Rosen and Assistant Secretary Peirce remained as the guests of President Roosevelt until 2:30 p. m., when they were conveyed in the president's carriage to the pier and thence boarded the naval yacht Sylph to return to New York.

President Roosevelt received from the Associated Press the first definite news of the declination of M. Muravieff to act as the principal plenipotentiary of Russia in the conference and of the designation by the Russian emperor of M. Witte as the leading Rusian envoy. Official notification of M. Witte's appointment has not reached the president from St. Petersburg, although it may come at any time.

Unofficially the designation of M. Witte is regarded as most propitious. It is believed that his appointment is an assurance that peace in the far east now is in sight.

W. S. GUFFEY SPEAKS OUT.

Opposes Taxing the Whole City for Cutting the Hump, Asserting It Will Benefit But Few.

"If it becomes necessary, I'll take the saddle and help defeat the hump cut and all measures that are for the benefit of the few at the cost of the taxpayers," said W. S. Guffey last evening. He continued:

"That little hump of ground existed long before the city reached its present prominence and wealth, and most of the generation responsible for the great advancement which the city has made have passed over that same little knob in their daily travels to and from their places of business. Notwithstanding this great 'impediment' to progress, we, as a community, have achieved no little fame and wealth. When street cars have lost their ability to pull loads of passengers over the hump, persons wishing to attend to business will be able to walk the short distance from Sixth avenue to the downtown points, and, besides, tracks are now being laid which will permit of a greater distribution of traffic throughout the crowded section of the downtown.

"The argument is advanced that rents in the lower portion of the city will be lowered when the cut is made, thus allowing the merchant to sell his goods at a lower figure and so give the taxpayer a saving in cost of living. If greater numbers of persons are induced to go to the downtown stores, certainly there will be a greater demand for business locations in that section, and the law of supply and demand will fix the rents, and in more ways than one.

"If property owners on the hump wish the cut made, let them go into their own pockets, for it is their property which will benefit, and not that of the other sections of the city, which, however, will be asked to share the burden of the cost.

"Bigelow said that the cost of the Grant boulevard would not exceed $856,000, and it has already cost over three times that amount. He tells us that the removal of the hump will cost about $2,000,000. Are we to judge by his former work on estimating? If so, there will be something like $6,000,000 for the taxpayer to shoulder, and that is a conservative estimate, for, in my opinion, it will be nearer the $8,000,000 mark. Let the hump stand, for Pittsburgh has achieved her enviable position amongst the cities of the world with this 'handicap,' and will continue to hold her place, even though it is uphill work."

M. WITTE NAMED AS PEACE ENVOY

Czar Finally Agrees to Confer Full Plenipotentiary Powers.

GRAND DUKES ARE FURIOUS

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, July 13.

Ambassador Meyer cabled the state department today from St. Petersburg that M. Witte, president of the committee of ministers, had been selected to take the place of M. Muravieff. M. Witte will sail from Cherbourg, France, on July 25 and will arrive in New York August 1. This change is regarded in Washington as indicating the earnest desire of the czar for peace, as M. Witte has always been very much in favor of peace and the leader of the peace party.

Mr. Takahira, the Japanese minister, left today for New York, whence he goes tomorrow to Oyster Bay for luncheon with the president. Details regarding the preparations for the reception of the plenipotentiaries at Oyster Bay and for the convening of the Washington conference at the navy yard, Portsmouth, N. H., will be discussed. The appointment of M. Witte is well received in Japanese circles, though the hope is expressed that there will be no more changes in the Russian selections.

Japan Objected to Muravieff.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 13.—It has been intimated that Japan formally objected to utterances attributed to M. Muravieff reflecting upon the Japaneso nation, but inquiries made here have failed to obtain any confirmation of the rumor. The remarks which Japan is said to have complained of were made when M. Muravieff was president of the arbitration tribunal at The Hague, which decided against Japan the claims of the blockading squadron for preferential treatment. After the delivery of the decision M. Muravieff reviewed the decision and said the arbitration, begun in time of peace, ended amid the sinister acts of war which was a terrible obstacle in the path of light and progress. In spite of all good will no one was secure against an unexpected hostile attack. A nation was obliged to accept a war when legitimate defense of honor and liberty was involved. The best evidence which the over battles would distinguish between right and unfounded pretensions. At the end of this war between an European and an Asiatic people the right would shine out afresh.

The Japanese minister at The Hague asked his government for instructions in regard to M. Muravieff's speech, but the outcome of this step has never been made known.

Pay Is Not Sufficient.

The declination of M. Muravieff to head the Russian peace mission was based partly on the state of his health and partly on the fact that his allowance for expenses to cover the period of his sojourn in America was only 15,000 roubles, which amount he considered insufficient, owing to the great cost of living in the United States. M. Witte twice refused to become the successor of M. Muravieff on the mission, on the ground that he did not wish to be a mere figurehead in the transmission to Emperor Nicholas of the peace terms offered by Japan. His selection, it is said, cannot but be taken to mean that the emperor has yielded to his insistence that real powers plenipotentiary be conferred upon Russia's principal report in the peace commission.

The peace party is overjoyed at the fact that the negotiations have been placed in M. Witte's hands. It is the firm belief that this not only insures a successful termination of the negotiations but that M. Witte will secure the best possible terms for Russia. Some of the grand dukes and courtiers of the emperor's entourage, however, are reported to be furious at M. Witte's selection.

Witte Has Interesting Career.

Sergius Witte may be regarded as the leading Liberal statesman of Russia. For the last 13 years he has been one of the strongest personalities in the Russian bureaucracy, although his political fortunes suffered a setback when he was compelled to resign the portfolio of minister of finance in August, 1903, and again when after being appointed president of the council of ministers in the same month his office gradually lost its importance until rumors of his intention to resign and go abroad had been persistently circulated.

Witte is about 56 years old and has steadily worked his way up from the position of an underpaid railroad clerk, who occasionally acted as porter to that of the leading statesman of Russia. In spite of the fact that his enemies are numerous and include some of the most powerful men in Russia. A man of large stature, Witte has the reputation of being harsh to his subordinates, but his honesty and ability have never been doubted even by his worst enemies. He was created a count in 1901.

M. Witte is thoroughly familiar with the far eastern question in all its bearings. He understands the Japanese position and fully realized before the war that the aggressive policy being pursued under the lead of Viceroy Alexieff and M. Bezobrazoff, president of the Yalu Timber Company, and the coterie of adventurers connected with them, would drive Japan to take up the sword. At one time Witte talked over the situation with the Marquis Ito, president of the Japanese privy council and one of the leading statesmen of Japan. Practically it was Witte's disapproval of Russia's far eastern policy and the creation of a viceroyalty in the far east which caused his downfall as minister of finance.

RUSSIANS ARE NOT PREPARED

Do Not Have Heavy Guns Ready When Japanese Seized Sakhalin Island.

SOLDIERS WISH FOR PEACE

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, July 14.—The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph at Tokyo sends a description of the Japanese invasion of the island of Sakhalin, written by a correspondent of the paper at Aomori, Japan, which is in part as follows:

"The Japanese left their temporary base July 4 and reached their destination July 7. The Russian cruiser Novik was found at Cape Enduma stranded on a reef, half submerged. The Russians fired only three or four shells before they destroyed the fort, the jetties and the barracks. Heavy guns, undamaged, were afterwards found in the forts where they had been hastily and imperfectly mounted.

"The greatest confusion was witnessed in the streets of Korsakovsk. The Russian troops were rushing in all directions, carrying cooking utensils on their shoulders and men were passing about the streets looting and setting fire to the buildings. All the citizens were panic-stricken, many of them setting fire to their own houses. The conflagration continued for nearly three days.

"The streets are now desolate and obstructed with the ruins of charred buildings. Finding that the Japanese respectful property and treated the people kindly, the citizens are beginning to return.

TOKYO, July 13.—An eye witness of the Japanese bombardment of Korsakovsk wires that the Russian forts were silenced on July 7 after the exchange of a very few shots. The piers, warehouses and other buildings were set on fire and the conflagration was reflected by the foggy atmosphere, converting the sky into one mass of bloodred color. The Japanese army landed amidst the fire, which was fast spreading to the forts. The infantry quickly captured the forts, from the tops of which the bewildered inhabitants were seen fleeing in every direction, carrying what property they could remove. The fires were not subdued for over 48 hours.

The sunken Russian cruiser Novik, which was destroyed by the Japanese at Korsakovsk last August, and the ruined town and forts are sad witnesses of the rapidity with which destruction is wrought in modern warfare.

The Japanese imperial household has taken up half of the Korean foreign loan. Hereafter the Japanese army of all services will be clothed in khaki. The officers will be distinguished from the men only by their shoulder straps.

SIPINGHAI, MANCHURIA, July 13.—Quiet continues along the front, but the Japanese are still moving in Korea. The Russian trains move as far as Changchn. Information from the Japanese lines indicates that the Russian and Japanese are exceedingly anxious for peace. To counteract this feeling Field Marshal Oyama is continually issuing glowing appeals to the patriotism of his armies.

They took up the frog and the rail where the connection had been made with the Panhandle track and put down in their place the straight road rail, with which no connection could be made. Then they went home.

Just what the Wabash will or can do in the matter is yet to be settled. It is possible that a long litigation will be started on the matter. Whether the Pennsylvania has broken the law of the United States in thus preventing, as is alleged, the handling of interstate traffic may have to be settled in court. A. M. Neeper, general counsel for the Wabash interests here, is out of town, and until he returns and can take up the subject the legal course of the Wabash will not be determined.

Cuts Out Freight Transfer.

The main effect of the action is that it cuts out the transfer of freight business between the Wabash and Pennsylvania, and is a most effective statement that the Pennsylvania proposes to let its competitor here severely alone.

Before the Wabash bought the West Side Belt and allied interests included in the Pittsburgh Terminal Railroad and Coal Company the Panhandle was receiving from 30 to 40 carloads of coal daily from this connection. After the Wabash secured the properties this coal was naturally sent west and north over that line, and the Pennsylvania's receipts recently have been only seven or eight loads a day. The Pennsylvania, on the other hand, has been delivering to the West Side Belt a large quantity of lumber intended for the use of many prospective builders in the district through which the West Side Belt runs. Just how this lumber will be delivered now is a hard question to answer. It seems probable that it will need to be hauled by wagons from Clairton or from the West End to the points along the West Side Belt where the construction is going forward.

The justification of the action of Wednesday night is that it is a simple business proposition with the Pennsylvania not to allow any other system to secure any advantage whatever from the expensive terminals which the Pennsylvania has built here in the past five years costing over $10,000,000.

It is claimed that no amount the company can receive from switching charges will compensate the system for the use of the terminals. An idea of the method by which it keeps the Wabash from accepting goods for delivery at points on the Pennsylvania and also the amount charged for switching to the Wabash can be gained from the simple fact that the Pennsylvania's charge is $24 a car. A Wabash, if not high, cost for such service would be $2.50 a car.

The events of yesterday show how far away is any peaceful arrangement between the Pennsylvania and the Wabash, such as have been heralded for months. It shows also that the so-called "community of interest" has not yet accepted the new Gould road as a legitimate Pittsburgh line.

There will beyond doubt be many echoes from Wednesday night's action, as the financial interests in New York will take the matter up at once. It is considered the worst exhibition of the Pennsylvania "strong-arm" since the Western Union poles were cut down.

RUSSIAN TRAITORS HANG AT ODESSA

Government Executes Twenty-Four Leaders of the Recent Disturbance.

SEVENTEEN MORE ARE DOOMED

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ODESSA, July 13.—Twenty-four leaders of the recent disturbances here were hanged today in various prisons. Another batch of 17 will be publicly executed upon the arrival here of Gen. Ignatieff, president of the special conference for the revision of the exceptional laws designed for safe-guarding public order. The battleship Georgi Pobiedonosetz has arrived here with a fresh crew for the purpose of taking 67 mutineers to Sevastopol for trial by court-martial.

Of 92 persons arrested and charged with robbery or incendiarism in connection with the recent riots here, 74 were acquitted today owing to lack of evidence and 35 were sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment, the time to include the two weeks which they have already passed in prison. The extraordinary outcome of these trials has aroused much comment here. It is openly asserted that it is a political demonstration against the military government and furnishes evidence of the conflict going on between the municipality and the government, as the judges are elected by the people.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 13.—Rumors are current in this city that four grenadier regiments at Moscow have mutinied and that at Warsaw yesterday certain officers refused to give the command to their men to fire on people who were making a demonstration. Not the slightest confirmation, however, is obtainable of these rumors.

Official advices received by the minister of the interior this afternoon say that the assassin of Prefect of Police Shuvaloff of Moscow has been identified as a former school teacher of St. Petersburg named Kulikovsky, who was actively connected with the political agitation and is believed to have belonged to the terrorist organization. He was first arrested under the administration of the late Interior Minister Sipiaguine in 1901 and three years later was exiled to Siberia for six years by the late Interior Minister Von Plehve, but escaped in 1904 and was supposed to have gone abroad. Kulikovsky was next discovered at Moscow in June last prowling around the government buildings, probably intent on committing a political crime. He was arrested and taken to a police station from which he escaped. Upon his escape Shuvaloff offered a reward for Kulikovsky's capture.

The bomb factory seized at Tiflis, Caucasia, is considered an important haul. It contained in addition to finished bombs a large quantity of dynamite, nitroglycerine and other explosives. Thirteen persons belonging to a local revolutionary committee were captured. A chemist who was implicated committed suicide.

The resignation of M. Bouligan as minister of the interior is expected daily. Gen. Trepoff, the assistant minister of the interior, will probably be his successor. The terrorists have recently renewed their warnings against Gen. Trepoff with ominous persistence. The general is constantly in receipt of letters signed by the executive committee of the fighting organization informing him that his hour has come. A remarkable feature of all the communications is that the writers take pains to say that no safeguards will avail or avert his impending doom. At the same time they tell him he need not be afraid to go abroad in the streets. They add:

"Your sentence will be executed in your own room. You will die in your bed."

The terrorists seem to take pride in issuing a challenge involving a demonstration of their power and resources to penetrate the armor of the police. Moreover, Gen. Trepoff knows enough of the resources and desperateness of the organization to firmly believe that the terrorists are able to execute their threat. He makes no concealment of the fact that he expects to be killed, but his nerve is unshaken.

"I will at least die at the post of duty," he says.

DAVID MARTIN COMING.

With Representative Buckley He Will Come to Pittsburgh to Meet Senator Hackett's Body.

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—(Special.)—State Insurance Commissioner Martin and Representative Seth Buckley of the Thirty-first ward will go to Pittsburgh to meet the body of Horatio Baich Hackett, state senator and former register of wills, which is being brought from California, where he died.

Mr. Martin will arrange for the funeral in this city in behalf of the family of the dead. It is not known yet just when the body will arrive in Philadelphia, as no word has been received from Magistrate McCleery, who, with his wife, is bringing the body to this city. Mrs. Mary Hackett Gannon, a daughter of the dead man, today said that she expected the funeral party in Philadelphia either Sunday night or early Monday morning.

Will Discuss Foreign Policies.

ROME, July 13.—The Patria, announcing an approaching meeting at Aix, France, between Signor Tittoni, the Italian foreign minister, and M. Rouvier, the French premier, says they will exchange views on important questions of foreign policy, and especially regarding common action by France and Italy in the Mediterranean.

FULLER LAID TO REST

ton Brooke and Henry Brooke.

The honorary pall bearers were Gov. Pennypacker, Senator Penrose, Banking Commissioner Robert McAfee, J. M. Shumaker, superintendent of public buildings and grounds, Dr. John R. Dickson of Gettysburg, a classmate of Mr. Fuller, J. V. Thompson, Judge R. S. Umbel, John R. Byrne, A. D. Boyd, O. J. Sturgis, D. W. McDonald and D. D. Johnson.

The active pall bearers were: Charles H. Seaton, James C. Work, John Lynch, L. B. Bettler, deputy secretary of the commonwealth; George D. Thorn, chief clerk in the state department; Judge E. H. Reppert, H. M. Kephart, George F. Tetlow, W. E. Crow and P. A. Jehns.

At the Grave.

It was almost 4 o'clock when the funeral cortege reached the cemetery. The distance from the Fuller residence to the burial ground is about a mile, and along the route hundreds of residents of Uniontown gathered. Leading the procession was the Fayette County Bar association. The members walked the entire distance.

At the cemetery a number of the members of the Keystone Fire company guarded the open grave and kept the crowd back. The men were in charge of Chief F. Springer Todd of the Uniontown department, and Capt. J. T. Williams, First Lieut. William McLaughlin and Second Lieut. Robert Lease of the Keystone company. A big crowd had gathered long before the funeral cortege arrived.

The flowers from the house had been taken to the cemetery and tastefully arranged about the grave. The last resting place of Secretary Fuller was provided with a cement box. From the white receptacle to the top of the grave the earth was entirely hidden with greens and flowers. Even the bottom of the box had been strewn with sweet peas. Spread on the grass were several pieces of matting. This carpet was almost hidden beneath carnations and sweet peas. The services at the grave consisted of a prayer and the burial service.

Harrisburg Well Represented.

The state was well represented at the funeral. This morning at 8:42 o'clock two special Pullman cars arrived over the Pennsylvania carrying the Harrisburg officials. In the party were Governor Pennypacker, Senator Penrose, Col. Lewis W. Beitler, deputy secretary of the commonwealth; George D. Thorn, chief clerk of the state department, and these clerks from the department over which Mr. Fuller had presided: G. H. Hassler, C. B. Miller, Charles E. Fritcher, W. H. Reiff, J. C. Deminger, J. B. Patrick, Col. C. H. Brady, C. R. Willits, W. L. Fleming, H. F. Fressler, J. K. Delaney, C. H. Hollinger, J. A. Weible, J. A. Lininger, J. L. Kendelpart, J. B. Shallenberger, J. M. Gibbs, H. W. Fry, W. H. Pennypacker, H. F. Young, J. H. Slentz.

Other state officials were Capt. John C. Delaney, factory inspector; Robert Conklin, forestry commissioner; J. N. Laugham, chief clerk of the auditor general's department; J. W. Snedden, treasury department; Guy S. Davies, attorney general's department; John H. Campbell, secretary of internal affairs department; J. M. Shumaker, superintendent of public buildings and grounds; G. C. Keim, buildings and grounds department; E. G. Roberts, executive department, and E. C. Dewey of the treasury.

Banking Commissioner Robert McAfee, William Montgomery and A. J. Pitcairn came out from Pittsburgh on an afternoon train. Charles A. Grady of Mayfietta, ex-State Treasurer James S. Bencom of Greensburg, Representative Craven of Washington and Capt. J. M. Clark of New Castle were among others from a distance. The governor's party returned to Harrisburg last night.

Second Attempt Successful.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 13.—(Special.)—Miss Jane Martin, aged 28 years, of Boardman, who tried to commit suicide by poisoning last Saturday, succeeded last night on the second attempt. She went to Boardman a short time ago, coming from Pittsburgh. She did not say anything about her past life which would give a clue to the cause of the deed.

SQUABBLING OVER THE EQUITABLE

District Attorney Jerome and Deputy Superintendent Hunter at Variance.

FAILS TO FURNISH EVIDENCE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 13.—District Attorney Jerome today made an unsuccessful attempt to secure, from the office of First Deputy Superintendent of Insurance Robert H. Hunter in this city, a copy of the detailed evidence on the affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, taken before Superintendent of Insurance Francis Hendricks. This is the report which already has been printed, and of which Mr. Jerome yesterday said it was "funny" that he could not obtain a copy when a newspaper secured and printed it.

After failure to get the report today the district attorney sent Deputy Superintendent Hunter a letter in which he said that he had Governor Higgins' order for a copy of the report and requested that it be delivered to one of his assistants. Mr. Hunter declined to comply with the request unless Mr. Jerome gave him a receipt to show that the copy in Mr. Hunter's hands was the property of Superintendent Hendricks and would agree to return it within a reasonable time when requested to do so. Mr. Jerome then sent another letter to Mr. Hunter, in which he detailed all the correspondence which had passed between himself and Governor Higgins on the subject, as well as copies of the letters exchanged by the district attorney and Mr. Hendricks.

Jerome Grows Tart.

Concluding the letter says:

It is always the habit of this office to receipt for papers and always the custom of this office to return papers to the custody where they belong, but it is not the custom of this office, nor will the district attorney agree to return upon demand, to a subordinate, a copy of evidence directed to be furnished by the governor of the state of New York.

I ask that you deliver to me without qualification or conditions a copy of the testimony taken by the superintendent of insurance, pursuant to the promise made by the superintendent of insurance to the governor. I will answer to your superiors for its safe custody and return at the proper time.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 13.—Superintendent of Insurance Hendricks this afternoon made his first statement on Equitable affairs since the day following his official report when he said there would be a second report issued covering points not developed in the preliminary. Mr. Hendricks was asked for a reply to the interview given by District Attorney Jerome, in which Mr. Jerome expressed much indignation that he had not been furnished with a copy of the evidence taken in the Equitable investigation.

Says Copy Was Not Asked For.

"If Jerome wanted a copy of the testimony, why didn't he ask for it?" asked Mr. Hendricks. "He has never asked for a copy of the testimony, not at least from me."

Asked about the Depew Improvement Company, whose loan of $250,000 from the Equitable has been the subject of special criticism, Mr. Hendricks said his department had been over that before.

"That is ancient history," said Mr. Hendricks. "We had gone into that before. We told them to call the loan. We marked the value of the property down to $150,000. They kicked on that and we told them that if we made any change it would be less. They foreclosed the mortgage and bid in the property for $50,000. They have it yet."

Mr. Hendricks said that the situation is precisely as it was three weeks ago. There are many matters not covered by the preliminary report that must be taken up and if he can get his experts to forego their 30-day vacations until after the summer months, he may be able to get a final report out by October, but that the time when such a report will appear will be later than that if it is decided to go into an examination of the society's real estate transactions prior to 1901.

"The final report will cover everything pertinent to the investigation," Mr. Hendricks concluded.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 13.—The feeling among members of the legislature that the Equitable Life Assurance situation should be submitted to the extraordinary session is growing stronger daily, but Gov. Higgins still remains firm in the position he has taken that Supt. Hendricks, of the state department of insurance, is fully able to cope with the situation.

Several members have advised the governor of their wishes of permitting an investigation to be had which will be public in character and which will give the people an opportunity to follow daily the testimony of the men who are in the possession of absolute information concerning the inner workings of the society, but he is not yet convinced that this is the wiser course to pursue.

Depew Still Holds On.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Senator Depew has not resigned as a director of the Equitable Life Assurance society. This announcement was made today by Chairman Paul Morton of the Equitable. Mr. Morton said that just before Senator Depew sailed for Europe a few weeks ago he called at the Equitable offices and told the chairman that he would resign as a director and that he had no objection to his $20,000 a year position as special counsel to the society being cancelled or abolished. No formal presentation of the resignation ever had been made, however, and Mr. Morton said he was unprepared to say whether or not it would be accepted if tendered. Senator Depew's connection with the society as special counsel will terminate on August 1, it having been announced some time ago that that position would be abolished at the end of the present month.

Grover Cleveland, George Westinghouse and Justice Morgan J. O'Brien, trustees of the majority stock of the Equitable Life Assurance society, have written to Jacob Schiff expressing their confidence in him. Mr. Schiff retired from the Equitable directorate at the time the board rejected the report of the Frick investigating committee.

RICHMOND, VA., July 13.—According to what seems a well-authenticated report, it is the purpose of Thomas F. Ryan, of New York, to become at the earliest possible day one of the United States senators from Virginia. Mr. Ryan claims residence and votes in Nelson county, where he owns a splendid country place.

It is said that Mr. Ryan has been in conference with some of Virginia's leading politicians and that the state will be carefully surveyed and plans laid to capture the toga for him.

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—James H. Hyde, of the Equitable Life Assurance society, today resigned as vice president of the Commercial Trust Company of this city, and the directors of that company accepted the resignation. For the time being, at least, both Mr. Hyde and James W. Alexander, who also represented the Equitable in the Commercial Trust Company, are still in the trust company's directorate.

ATTENDANCE AT ORPHANS' PICNIC BREAKS RECORD

Fully 20,000 People Visit Calhoun Park During One Day—Managers Estimate the Receipts at Over $30,000.

Never in the history of the picnics given for the support of the little inmates of St. Paul's Orphan Asylum have such big crowds attended their picnic as they did yesterday. From morning till night people kept going in and out of Calhoun park, and after supper the almost endless streams of people entering the park brought the total for the day up to 20,000. The total attendance in the two days was nearly 30,000. All records for attendance on the second day of the picnic was eclipsed, and late last night Father Michael Lynch, manager of the orphan asylum, and General Chairman Andrew S. McSwigan, estimated the two days' receipts would net the orphans over $30,000.

The rain interfered with the picnic on Wednesday and yesterday morning, but when the sun showed himself thousands of people who had been waiting for the opportunity to go to Calhoun started out and they arrived in such great numbers yesterday that before the sun set the record attendance of last year was broken. The people had a good time, and as there was plenty of everything a person might want and everybody was very free with their money, as all went to swell the fund being built up for the 900 little children at Idlewood.

The annual picnics were primarily a Catholic affair, but during the last few years the people of all creeds have come to take an interest in the great work built up by the managers of the orphan asylum, where children of 15 different nationalities are cared for the year around, and have been gradually taking part in the picnics. Last evening as the long string of people crossed the bridge into the park, Father Lynch said:

"It is no longer the Catholics who lend a helping hand to make the orphans' picnic a success. People of all denominations are helping, and it is a wonderful sight to see how eager everyone is to make the fund as great as possible."

Last year was the record year made by the orphans' picnic, when the total receipts footed up $20,369. At 10 o'clock last night General Chairman McSwigan went away from the crowd to sit down. He was tired but happy, for under his leadership and in spite of the rain the number of visitors and total amount of the fund went over and above all expectations. Bishop Canevin went to Calhoun park during the afternoon and was kept busy shaking hands and meeting the friends of the orphans. He left when night began to fall. Father Lawrence A. O'Connell, assistant rector of the Church of the Epiphany, was one of the busiest men in the park during the two days as he had supervision over the booths and last night when the picnic was drawing to a close he let go the tight hold he had on the reins and, like the other managers, sought a quiet spot for relief.

The handling of the crowds by the traction company was so well done that not a person was hurt in the inevitable crush which always occurs to get on the cars. Supt. P. J. Callahan of the Pittsburgh lines took personal charge at the park gates and with his assistant, James Sullivan, and several policemen, placed the people on board the cars and carried them away safely.

The baby show yesterday was a center of interest, and people lingered about them as long as the infants were on exhibition. The judges, all selected because they were fathers of bouncing big babies, awarded the first prize, a handsome go-cart, to Elizabeth May Massung of 2303 Versailles avenue, McKeesport, and the second prize, a pair of fine kid shoes, to Margaret Higgens of Crafton. The judges were Col. Thomas J. Cosgrove of Braddock, John A. Meighan of Allegheny, Thomas A. McCaffrey of Lawrenceville, John J. Garry of Pittsburgh, and Andrew S. McSwigan of Pittsburgh. The bachelors lost themselves in the crowd when the time arrived to award prizes.

MAKE RAIDS ON LODGING HOUSES

Much Evidence of False Registration Is Discovered at Philadelphia.

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, July 13.

Evidence of the existence of padded assessors' lists and false registration has been adduced as a result of the sweeping raid made by the police under Supt. Taylor on more than 100 of this city's lodging houses in the Tenderjoin and tenement districts.

Five hundred fraudulent voters were today stricken from assessors' lists in various wards by order of Assistant Director Smith. Many hundreds of others will suffer the same fate, day by day, as the police continue their investigations.

In the office of Supt. Taylor are hundreds of books, the property of lodging house keepers, nearly all of whom have failed to comply with the law so far as registering their patrons is concerned. With the examination of each book is revealed additional proof of illegal voting, padded registration, etc., when compared with the assessors' lists in the different wards.

Many lodging house keepers, 10 in all, have so far lost their licenses, while a half dozen others whose cases have been investigated by the police, will appear before Mayor Weaver this week to show cause why their licenses should not be revoked. The most glaring evidence of illegal voting, according to the police reports, is shown by lodging houses examined. In one 84 bogus voters were registered.

"There is no telling when we will finish inspecting these lodging house registers," said Supt. Taylor. "We have more than 100 on hand. In many instances the proprietors refused to give up their books. Then the police were forced to copy the names. We are getting all kinds of registers. Some kept on brown paper, others in Yiddish and last of all in Chinese. In but few instances have any of the lodging house proprietors complied with the law in regard to giving the name and hailing place of their patron and the date of their arrival and departure. Many of the alleged guests have been written by one person. In many instances we find only such names as "Joe," "Bill," "Smith," "Hurley" and "A man." However, we are doing the best we can. I think the inspection will cover the best part of a month."

WANTS A FREE TICKET.

When It Is Refused, Grige Snatches Up $100 and Runs Out of the Bank.

Millege Grige, an Austrian, was arrested at Fifth avenue and Wood street by Policeman John Boyd yesterday for snatching $100 from the counter of the foreign department of the First National bank. He had bought a ticket to Carlstadt, Germany, and wanted the steamship company to give him a ticket to Baltimore free of charge. When he was refused, he remained about the corridor, and while the paying teller was counting out some money he reached through the window and snatched a package of $100.

Grige rushed out of the place and the clerks jumped over the counter after him. He was caught by the policeman, and gave the officer and clerks quite a struggle to get him back to the bank. During the struggle he tore two $5 bills in two. He was taken to Central station, where he is being held as a suspicious person.

RIVERS CLAIM MORE BATHERS THIS SEASON THAN LAST

Although extra precautions have been taken by the police department to prevent bathers being drowned in the rivers this summer, the number of persons who have lost their lives while bathing is greater than during the same period last year. This year 41 persons have lost their lives in the water between May 1 and July 13, while during the same period in 1904 only 30 cases were reported. This is accounted for by the statement that parents are more lenient and give the boys permission to go to swimming pools guarded by the police, but instead they go to other places on the rivers.

Chorus Girl Sues Manager.

In a suit heard before Alderman McMaster yesterday Miss Edith Givens charged W. Carleton, manager of the Carleton Opera company, which is playing at the Nixon theater, with discharging her without the customary two weeks' notice and for one week's salary. Miss Givens has been employed as a chorus girl with the opera company and was discharged last Friday without the customary notice. Carleton claimed the girl laughed during a serious scene on the stage and spoiled the act. The alderman reserved his decision till today.

NO FUNDS FOR MAYOR WEAVER

Philadelphia Common Council Refuses to Provide Money for Attorney's Fees.

OWES HIGH-PRICED LAWYERS

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, July 13.

While Mayor Weaver was able to have councils reconsider their action on the gas and trolley ordinances, measures responsible for the political excitement of the past month, it was developed today that the mayor does not, on other propositions, control a majority of either branch. It was evidenced today that the city fathers are not friendly to the mayor and that they will block his moves whenever it is possible to do so without creating sentiment in his favor.

Mayor Weaver, June 29, asked councils to appropriate a sum of money to pay the various attorneys he has engaged in his efforts to disclose alleged frauds and connect with them certain Republican leaders. Councils referred the mayor's letter to the finance committee, which has taken no action upon it. The mayor today sent another letter asking for money and requesting immediate action. This also was sent to the finance committee.

May Have to Foot Bills.

If councils do not make the appropriation, and it is predicted they will not, the Weaver-Wanamaker interests will have to settle a very large item in the way of legal retainers. Attorneys of the calibre of Elihu Root, Wayne McVeagh and Joseph Auerbach come high; then there are a half dozen others on the administration staff, including James G. Gordon, William Meredith, David Wallerstein, H. J. Rehman and C. H. Tuttle. These gentlemen are not pooling their wisdom for sentimental reasons. They will want cash and a good bunch of it, too.

Common council, however, gave the mayor the most open rebuke by adopting a resolution ordering that the public comfort booths in the parks be kept open. George Thomas, acting chief of the bureau of city property, directed that they be closed for the reason, as he said "that they are only used by the working or common people." Thomas is very close to Mayor Weaver, so there was no mistaking the motive underlying the action in reversing Thomas.

Will Consult Mr. Root.

Mayor Weaver again announced his intention of going to New York for a final consultation with Elihu Root. He had intended to go last Monday, but was unable to get away. Gordon, MacVeagh, Meredith and Auerbach will attend the conference. Mr. Root's advice as to the position taken by District Attorney Bell is wanted; also his opinion as to whether it would be wise to ask Attorney Gen. Carson to intervene, providing it is possible to find a president judge of common pleas who will take the initiative in the matter. It appears to be the opinion of the local bar that District Attorney Bell's position is correct, and for this reason it is not believed Attorney General Carson would interfere in the matter. The probabilities are that the deadlock will continue unless the mayor himself causes other arrests to be made.

Mr. Bell today was asked:

"In spite of your denial yesterday that you had borrowed a large sum of money through the influence of Joseph L. Caven, uncle of Select Councilman Frank H. Caven, that assertion is made again this morning. Will you say whether that assertion is true or false?"

"I must absolutely decline to answer the question," replied Mr. Bell. "I should suggest that you see Mr. Caven."

This was done, and when the question was put to Mr. Caven, he answered:

"It is a deliberate lie and a falsehood. Every word of the statement flares with untruth."

Will Give Puddlers an Advance.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 13.—(Special.)—Contrary to the expectations of the men the bar iron settlement for the coming 60 days was made on a lower card rate than was had at the May settlement. That card rate is 1.5. The one which will be in force the next 60 days is 1.4 cents. The decrease in the card rate, though, will nevertheless give the puddlers an advance over what they have been receiving. Heretofore at 1.5 cents the puddlers have received $5.37½ per ton. Under the new scale which is now in force they will get $5.50 per ton on a 1.4 cent card rate.

SHARP REPLY TO ATTORNEY KLINE

Miss Tarbell Makes Caustic Answer to His Defense of Mr. Rockefeller.

JUDGES BY THE GOLDEN RULE

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, O., July 13.—Ida Tarbell today in a statement wired to a local newspaper replied to John D. Rockefeller's defense of his action in the Corrigon controversy as follows:

"Mr. Kline urges that Mr. Rockefeller sold the stock acquired from Mr. Corrigan soon after the transaction. I do not see that that proves anything. He may have bought it back. He certainly was foolish if he parted permanently in 1895—at least to anyone but a member of his family—with any portion of his Standard Oil certificates.

"Mr. Kline says I used charges made in the petition instead of the testimony. I did, and I see no reason why I should not have done so. I used nothing which I had not convinced myself was true and nothing which Mr. Kline's statement makes me feel I should retract.

"Mr. Kline says I put in quotation marks certain statements which are not in the evidence, as if I were reciting evidence. I certainly used certain statements, and important ones, but not in the evidence, though I had no intention of making it appear that they were in the testimony. If I did give that impression I am at fault.

"One of these statements is in regard to a conversation between J. D. Rockefeller and Frank Rockefeller. The latter had pleaded with his brother to be easy with their friend. The interview broke up without a decision, but as Frank Rockefeller left the room John called him back.

"'Corrigan is going to the wall, Frank. I might as well have his stock as anybody. Persuade him to sell it and you get his mining stock.'

"This does not appear in the evidence, but I believe it to be true, and, if true, I see no reason why I should not use it. Moreover, I do not understand that Mr. Kline disputes its truth. Another case on which I presume Mr. Kline would accuse me of using testimony not in the evidence is that where Mr. Rockefeller, pressed about an interview which he denied, is described as springing to his feet and exclaiming:

"'I call God as my judge that I never did have an interview with him after the 29th. I call God to witness that.'

"I accuse Mr. Rockefeller not of breaking the law, or even the rules of business as they seem to be interpreted by many men in business. I judge him by the golden rule, and I claim that Mr. Rockefeller himself gives me the right to use that rule in estimating his character."

Today, 8 A. M. to 5 P. M., for Collars, Cuffs, Shirts, Hats.

First as to the shirts—that is, the negligee shirts at 85c. If your neck size runs from 16¼ to 17½, or from 14½ down to 13½, you are all right for as many as you want; but if you wear a 15, 15½ or 16—we are not going to be so rash as to promise you a flattering choice.

We have suddenly awakened to the fact that we must have more than one shirtmaker in the future to make our shirts for these sales. There were over 4,000 shirts before the assemblage yesterday, and of that 4,000 there is not the right variety for a second day's sale—that is, the right variety in the staple sizes.

That the shirts were fine, and of extraordinary value for the price, goes without our saying it. As a gentleman put it yesterday, looking at the shirts, "This is beautiful stuff for the money, and no mistake."

After all, come in to the Men's Haberdashery as early as you can today and see what you can do. One thing certain—among the collars, cuffs, the nightshirts and pajamas, and the neckwear and straw hats, there will be plenty of choice, because we were fully supplied with these goods. Friday, July 14, 1905.

With the whirr of her threshing machines in full swing, with a lynching bee in prospect, with a posse of 200 citizens chasing a male Carrie Nation loaded with dynamite; with former Congressman Funston arrested for shooting off inflamatory speeches, with Tom Lawson, Gov. LaFollette and District Attorney Jerome delivering an enfilading fire against Wall street, the trusts and the grafters; with the ruins of her legislative castles crashing around her ears, and with the gentle cyclone cavorting through her whiskers, Kansas—bleeding, vociferous, howling Kansas—is having the time of her delirious career.

If John F. Wallace doesn't soon relieve public tension over that reported $100,000 a year job which he says is waiting for him, the public will soon have a grievance against him besides which that peccadillo of Secretary Taft's will fade into absolute insignificance. Mr. Wallace should be more responsive to popular sympathy. Outside of the president and Mr. Taft, perhaps, no hard feelings are cherished toward him because he chose to throw up a mighty hot job, and it worries one to see a young man of his evident ability standing around so long without anything to do. If he's really going to work for the Westinghouse company or some other big concern he ought to be frank about it and dissipate this anxiety.

It is said the French people have been looking on with cynical amusement at the elaborate ceremonies incident to transferring the body of John Paul Jones to the American squadron. They are convinced the body is not that of the great admiral, but of some unknown and unknowable Frenchman. In the light of all the circumstances surrounding the finding and examination of the body, these skeptics would find it difficult to prove their assertions, but suppose they should be true? Does the ceremony incident on the reception of that body, therefore, become devoid of significance and a subject for jest? Not to a thoughtful person. It is said that republics are ungrateful, but whether the body now being reverently brought back to these shores by Admiral Sigsbee's squadron be the remains of John Paul Jones or not, the fact remains that the United States, after a century of neglect, is now rendering the highest honor in her power to his memory.

The police department reports that 41 persons lost their lives in Pittsburgh waters between May 1 and yesterday. This long list is a sad record, especially in that most of the victims were boys. Their parents are not altogether to blame, although the police report a growing leniency on the part of parents to permit their youngsters to go swimming at guarded points. The real cause of these disasters rests on the drowned boys themselves who disobeyed their parents' instructions and sought secluded spots for their fun. It is easy to moralize on this matter, but to deal practically with the boy and the swimming hole is a hard task. A parent's caution would naturally lead him to prohibit his boy from going swimming at all, but in most cases that would be the surest method of driving him to the water. It is a trite thing to say, no doubt, but after all the real preventative for fatalities under such circumstances is to bring up boys who will keep the promises they make to parents.

A contribution which was made to the conscience fund of the United States treasury yesterday puts that fund over the $400,000 mark. While at first glance that sum seems like a very respectable tribute to the inward monitor it should be recalled that the conscience fund was started in 1811—94 years ago. The aggregate of $400,000, therefore, represents an annual contribution only of about $4,255. The conclusion should not be too hastily reached, however, that this beggarly average represents the average tenderness of the American conscience. There are many other channels through which restitution may be made and are made. Banks and other business establishments are occasionally in receipt of such contributions. Not long ago a street railway company, even, received an enclosure of a nickel from a conscience-stricken individual who two years before had accepted an opportunity to avoid paying his fare.

Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte seems fated to make himself unpopular with the rank and file of his department at the outset of his administration. He has just reported to the president that he cannot see his way clear to grant the half-holiday asked for by naval employes. He arrives at this conclusion on the ground that economy is necessary in his department. There may be more to Secretary Bonaparte's argument than appears on its surface, but as it stands it will not appeal to the average citizen. The same argument might as logically be used by any employer of labor. The half-holiday movement has come to be recognized in the world of business as a humane institution, beneficial, even, to employer as well as employe. "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," and surely there can be nothing in the routine of naval employment to make an exception of this adage against the "jackies" there.

The People's Turn Next.

As was expected, Director Bigelow had select council pass the hump bond issue ordinance, and it now remains for the mayor to make the measure legal by his signature. By this act the people will be called upon to vote for or against an issue of bonds to the amount of $2,000,000 for carrying out a plan of grade reduction for which no accurate estimate has been made. Waivers of damages on but a small proportion of the total frontage affected have been secured and of these many will be invalid because they contain conditions which manifestly cannot be complied with.

The taxpayer in other parts of the city cannot understand where he is to be benefited by the proposed work, and when the day for the election arrives he probably will show his distrust of the whole proceeding by voting to allow the hump to remain. And then, perhaps, we will hear of the hump again a year from now.

The Russian Situation.

In the news that came from Russia yesterday, there is apparent the desperate efforts of the czar's government to bring order out of the chaos around it. Rioters at Odessa and the mutineers of the Kniaz Potemkine are being dealt with as everyone expected they would be. Twenty-four of the rioters were to be put to death at Odessa yesterday, and 17 more are to meet a similar fate soon. Sixty-seven of the mutineers have been taken to Sevastopol for trial, and it is easy to guess their fate.

This action, harsh though it be, is undoubtedly the only course to pursue by a ruler to whom the preservation of his government must now be the first consideration, as it would be that of any government placed in similar position. So long as the autocracy is determined to maintain itself, the menaces of terrorism must be met by punishment equally terrible. The probable resignation of M. Bouligan, minister of the interior, and the elevation to that post of M. Trepoff, the relentless and courageous persecutor of all enemies of the autocracy, will probably be another decisive step in the effort to beat into submission the revolutionary element in the empire.

On the other hand, the appointment of M. Witte to head Russia's peace plenipotentiaries in place of the distrusted and unpopular Muravieff, is universally recognized as one of the wisest steps the czar could have taken for relief from the pressure of war. M. Witte is recognized as a patriot, but his love for Russia has not blinded him to her miserable faults. His broad-minded, judicial nature, coupled with his poignant realization of the internal problems that demand solution in Russia, and his intimate acquaintance with affairs in the far east have long pointed him out as the natural leader for the czar's peace mission. Despite his pessimistic utterances recently concerning the Russian situation, and his avowed disinclination to participate in the peace conference, it is believed no man in the czar's dominions can do as much as he toward bringing Russia to peace with honor.

The Masher and the Man.

Incidents in which the impudent "masher" runs up against the wrong proposition multiply with pleasing rapidity. Pittsburgh has had several such cases within the past year. The man who is in the habit (or even who is not in the habit, but does it as an experiment) of addressing unknown ladies on the street in a personal and offensive way deserves all the smashing he may get for his impertinence. The ogling street masher is an unmitigated nuisance. It will not do to offer as an excuse that many women of a sort encourage this kind of thing. Honest women should be protected not only from the "masher," but from the bad example of their less respectable and less behaved sisters. It is exceedingly difficult to get at the curbstone loafers and the "mashers" by any of the ordinary processes of law, though there is plenty of law against the baneful practices. The police are powerless for the reason that the offenders have so many easy loopholes through which to escape.

The solution of the difficulty is found in the title of this article. If for every masher there is found a man who, like the gentleman in this most recent case, will undertake to administer immediate punishment, the masher will in time become an extinct specimen. The fellow who approaches defenseless women on the street is an arrant coward, no matter what his pretenses may be, and the fear of a good, sound drubbing will act as a more efficient deterrent than all the bluecoat interference that can be devised.

The School Teacher Abroad.

Following the close of the big National Association of Teachers at Asbury Park, various state educational institutes and associations are meeting, and the pedagogues throughout the country are touching elbows to their mutual advantage. Nor is the advantage confined to the teachers themselves. The interchange of ideas, the closer fellowship in their work and the helpful stimulus of discussion permitted by the yearly "meets" of the school teachers are sure to be felt in the ultimate results of their labors. Teaching has steadily advanced in public esteem, and the demand of today, as compared with the teaching of "the little red school house" days, involves mental, moral and physical equipment of the higher order. While this demand may not always be met to the entire satisfaction of everybody, it is safe to assume that the standard of teaching ability in the common schools of America has advanced wonderfully during the past decade. As a class the teachers are hard working, conscientious servants of the public, and since they serve in a capacity that affects vitally the welfare of the home as well as the nation, it is only right that the public's appreciation should take such a form as to practically aid in advancing the interests and stimulating the ambitions of these faithful servants.

Conventions for mutual interchange of ideas and associations for the perfecting of teaching systems is one of these forms, and the public should welcome "the school teacher abroad" during this vacation convention season. President Roosevelt at Asbury Park put the high seal of approval both upon the fidelity and faithfulness of these laborers and upon their individual and personal excellence. Hospitality should, wherever a "teacher's institute" meets, entertain the body with some definite reference to the old proverb that when we least expect it we may be "entertaining angels unaware."

Colonization Schemes.

The result of H. Rider Haggard's investigation when he came to America last April as commissioner of the colonial department to learn about colonization schemes has just been published. He gave special attention to the work of the Salvation Army and its agricultural colonies in California, Colorado and Ohio, but he also went to Canada to learn what that government would do to aid in a project to send out into the country again those who were congesting the cities and were becoming public charges. England foresees a loss in her agricultural returns besides the great expenses of aiding those who have settled in the city and lost their "grip" there.

Mr. Haggard finds that no scheme for colonization can be conducted on a philanthropic basis entirely, and men must be compelled to pay in time for their land and other equipment. It is believed that the Salvation Army colony in California failed for this reason, and the Colorado settlement is proving entirely successful, for there the families become independent. He suggests co-operation between the government and the colony to provide a guaranty fund which shall be repaid by those benefited. Canada offers to give a tract 360 miles square for the experiment, capable of sustaining 1,500 families. He would have the Salvation Army select the candidates for deportation to the country, for the government could never successfully do this. The Hadleigh settlement of the army in England might be used as a training ground for the colonists.

But while Mr. Haggard enthusiastically proposes plans for ridding cities of their unproductive population, he offers no remedy to check the rush to the congested centers. Until some means can be found for preventing that it will not be much relief to withdraw a part of the population of the city for their places would be promptly filled.

An American college professor has been officially appointed to investigate Scotch and Irish whisky. By acquiring a small interest in an ice plant somewhere he ought to be able to make a very comfortable job of it.

"Exciting the imagination" is said to be one of the prime qualifications for an orator. Director Bigelow comes under this head when he talks hump reduction.

Though the woods may be full of Democrats it will be observed that Mr. Bryan doesn't loiter in the woods around Wolfert's Roost to any great extent.

The green bottle blowers are in session in Terre Haute, Ind. The Buffalo convention crowd were satisfied to blow it off the top of a glass.

According to Mr. Wallace, knocking golf balls into holes in Chicago is very much more enjoyable than digging holes in Panama.

Perhaps Explorer Peary could raise a few thousands by issuing guaranteed return trip tickets on that North Pole expedition.

When you are kicking against Pittsburgh heat remember it is 140 degrees in the shade out in Death Valley, California.

The Colorado man who sold his wife for a bottle of beer declares that he was not very thirsty, either.

It is the automobile and not the octopus that has the rural population on the jump these days.

Miss Ida Tarbell is right. It is only a golden rule by which Rockefeller can be judged.

In the aristocratic East End,
With its once delightful ways;
In the fashionable suburbs,
There is fierce alarm these days.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS

By ERASMUS WILSON.

We'll get what's coming to us, sure.

Maybe you don't believe that; yet it is a fact, all the same—a "true fact," as some are in the habit of saying when they want to make the fact stand out bold and strong like a bump on a log.

If you believed it you would be more contented, and much happier than you are. Indeed, you can't be contented unless you do believe it, and without contentment there can be no happiness.

Why not believe and be contented and prosperous, for contentment leads to prosperity as well as to happiness.

We are all ready to admit that discontent constitutes the principal part of our misery, but for some reason or other we usually put the cart before the horse and say that our misery is the cause of our discontent.

Think it over and see if you are not miserable because you are discontented with your lot.

Now, if you were a little more philosophical and would seek out the causes of your discontent, you would probably discover that there are not good and sufficient grounds for it, and that you are getting all that is coming to you, for you are only entitled to that which you earn in this life.

* * *

Just between ourselves, and to go no further, what do you honestly believe is coming to you?

Do you think the world owes you a living? Are you expecting roasted birds, or flap-jacks and ham gravy to be set before you whenever you become hungry?

The roasted birds, ham gravy and flapjacks are for you whenever you want them, but anything not worth fetching isn't worth having.

You hadn't taken that view of it, perhaps, and that is just what's the matter. Right there is the cause of your discontent, the main symptom of which is misery.

That is plain enough, and common sense enough, don't you think?

Maybe you are in the class with the baby that cries for the moon, and by its crying disturbs a lot of people who are inclined to be restful and contented.

There are a great many people in this class, but they won't admit it, not even to themselves.

You may know some who are discontented and mistrable because Paderewsky can play the piano well enough to command as much for a single recital as they can make in a whole year.

Well, why are they not called upon as he is? The people have the money and are willing to give it to them, provided that they produce the music.

Give the people the music and they will give you the money, and give it cheerfully.

* * *

Possibly you are among those who spend a lot of valuable time faulting men of wealth because they have plenty of money.

Well, isn't that just what you want, and if you had your way wouldn't you be just as they are?

But if it is money you want why don't you get it and stop your everlasting yammering about it? You have as much time at your command as monied men have, and the business world is before you just as it was before them when they started out.

The trouble is that you are not made out of the same stuff, or not built on their particular lines. The difference being the same as that between the common piano pounder and Paderewsky.

And then, if all these pounders could play as well as Paderewsky his playing would be so commonplace that it would attract no unusual attention, therefore cease to be profitable to him, while they would be no better off than they are at present.

In order to excel in anything, not excepting money getting, you must be built right, trained right and stick right to your work, and stick to it through thick and thin, up hill and down dale, until you finish it.

The bag of gold is sure enough at the end of the rainbow, but you have to go there and get it.

Wealth comes not at the beck and call of anyone. It has to be sought and found and fetched.

* * *

Some people think that if they had their rightful share of all the money in the United States that they could revel in comfort all the days of their lives and leave something to posterity.

How much do you think would be coming to you if your Uncle Sam were to divy up even with all of his folks?

You would get just $29.42.

Now, don't you wish you hadn't said a word about wanting what is coming to you?

Probably you can't understand how it is possible to do the business of the country with such small per capita wealth?

That's just where your trouble lies. You don't know enough about wealth, and about business, to either make money or to save it. If you did you would be at it.

Your plea is, no doubt, that you haven't a chance to show what you can do.

What better chances had the great majority of those who have acquired wealth, or those who only have enough to enable them to live in comfort? Haven't you brains and hands, and isn't there as great demand for workers as there ever was? Are not other men making good livings for themselves and families and saving something for rainy days?

Possibly you think that you are entitled to special favors. From whom, and for what?

* * *

There is no favoritism in the game of getting money, as many are inclined to believe.

Who is there to show favors and why should any be shown? Favors call for favors. What favors have you to grant that would entitle you to other favors in return? Do you control so much tonnage that railroads can afford to give you a rebate? And not being able to favor them with business you cannot reasonably expect them to favor you with checks, or stocks, or bonds, or even with passes. If these were coming to you you would get them, sure.

And as for money, there are millions of dollars right here beckoning you to come and get them, and all the security demanded is that you will show that you are capable of making money make more money.

Any man with a scheme that will surely clear five per cent annually can have all the money he needs, and if his scheme will insure double that amount of clear earnings he will simply be inundated with money.

Why not devise such a scheme and take your place among the monied men of the land? All you need in order to do this is brains, which you have, of course. These you will have to exercise and exercise them properly, else you will not get desired results.

Thus you see it is up to you to get money, and you may depend upon it that you will get all that is coming to you.

Work and Wages.

Paul Morton gets $100,000 a year, and Admiral Togo $3,000. That's about right. Morton has 600,000 dissatisfied policy-holders to placate and Togo has had only a few thousand Russians to show how to lead a different life. Besides, Togo's labors are over, and Morton's have just begun and may never end. All Togo has got to do to keep his job and the esteem of the public is to stay afloat, where he cannot spend all his money, and to avoid homecomings. What Morton must do could not be told in a day.—Portland Oregonian.

Farm Labor at the South.

The demand for more farm labor at the south is becoming clamorous. North Carolina wants 60,000 and Louisiana 100,000 additional field hands, and many other states are equally short of cotton-growers and cotton-packers.—Washington Post.

TALKED OF IN GOTHAM

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 13.—Accommodations for the toilers of this country by the establishment of proper homes is one of the serious problems of city life which is being now discussed by organizations in the borough of the Bronx. Albert E. Davis, one of the organizers of the North Side board of trade, says: "We hear much of the vice and corruption of our city life, and there is all too much of it; but we do not hear enough of the good work that is progressing continually, quietly and unostentatiously, because greater publicity is given to the doings of transgressors of the law than to the acts of those who are zealous in good deeds. The experience of the past teaches us that there are landlords whose sole aim is the greatest possible revenues with the least regard for the health or comfort of the tenants. Against these the arm of the law must be raised in restrictive legislation. The present tenement house law is the result of long continued efforts of disinterested men and women with opinions and a will, who were not deterred from their purpose by opposition and abuse. This law not only compels adequate provision for light, air and heat in new buildings, but the remedying of objectionable conditions in existing buildings."

Found Starving Amidst Plenty.

Once a skilled craftsman at good wages, Thomas Brennan, 65 years old, was found early today at Broadway and Prince street by Policeman Frawley of the McDougal street station. He was prostrate on the sidewalk, gasping for breath and moaning with pain. He was taken to St. Vincent's hospital. "Lack of nurishment and the effects of excessive heat," was the way Ambulance Surgeon Brady diagnosed the case. Officer Frawley tersely reported to the station that the old man was "dying of starvation on Broadway." At the hospital Brennan was revived. He said that he was without a home. He had been a silk weaver all his life, he stated, but had been without work for a long time. Brennan is of more than ordinary intelligence, and has the appearance of a man who has done his share of the world's work. The police and hospital authorities agree that he is not of the "panhandler" class and regard him as one of the unfortune victims of circumstances. His condition is serious and the hospital authorities say that the combined effects of heat and starvation are likely to prove fatal.

Heat Drives Man Into River.

Because he tried to swim across the North river from the foot of Nineteenth street to Jersey City, a man who said he was John McDermott, 47 years old, with no home, was arraigned before Magistrate Breen in the Jefferson Market court today. A boating party that was passing up the river in a yawl picked the man up and took him to the pier, whence he was taken to Bellevue hospital in the patrol wagon. At the hospital the man was found to be suffering from starvation. Today, after having been given a hot meal, McDermott was well enough to be arraigned in court, where he told Magistrate Breen, in reply to the latter's questions, that if he was discharged he could find work. He was set free.

Seven Attempts to Burn Tenement.

Fire Marshal Seery and the police of the Tremont station are trying to run down an incendiary who has tried seven times since Monday to burn the five-story brick tenement at 3780 Third avenue. The building contains 13 families. The first fire occurred last Monday night, when a pile of oil saturated rags was discovered burning in the basement. Tuesday night similar blazes were discovered five times in the same place. Last night fire was discovered on the fourth floor. Fortunately the discovery in each case was made in time to prevent the flames spreading. Mr. Hertzel thinks the incendiary may be a former tenant whom he dispossessed.

Storm Brings Short Relief.

The refreshing shower that descended upon the city shortly before noon was all that saved this day from going on record as the hottest of the year thus far. Under the influence of the rain and the breeze it brought the thermometer down four degrees in a few minutes. Seven deaths from heat had been reported when the storm arrived. But the relief is only temporary, local showers do not break a hot wave and there isn't a big storm in sight. New Yorkers will have to perspire and bear it until a baby tornado comes out of the west or a refrigerated gale comes down from the frozen north.

Brooklyn's New Academy of Music.

Plans for the new Brooklyn Academy of Music have been accepted by the directors of the academy corporation. The new Academy of Music will be situated on Lafayette avenue and will extend from Ashland Place to St. Felix street. As projected, it will contain an auditorium of the same seating capacity as the Metropolitan Opera house. Its concert hall will seat 1,500 and the dimensions of the ball room will be 40 by 125 feet. In addition the building will contain a lecture hall and class rooms, which are to be used by the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Science.

Fraud Order Against Love Specialist.

The postoffice department issued today from Washington a fraud order against Mrs. Kirkman, who for the past three years has held forth as "a love specialist" in an apartment at No. 169 East Eighty-ninth street. The action of the department is based upon the results of an investigation of complaints from a large number of women who had, they reported, sent money to Mrs. Kirkman for love philters and who failed to get any response from the specialist.

Hard on Football Men.

Dr. Edmund J. James, the new president of the University of Illinois, is making a careful investigation into the post-college record of football players. He says: "The successful football man must, under modern conditions, so overstrain himself physically as to diminish seriously his chances of achieving success of any kind in after life."—Kansas City Journal.

SHOTS AT DEPEW

It is further revealed that the Equitable was Chauncey Depewed out of $6,000.—Detroit Free Press.

What is to be thought of a man of Mr. Depew's wealth and standing participating in the plunder of the Equitable Life? He must have known that for the money he took out of the company he gave no adequate return. He assisted in the robbery of widows and orphans and deliberately acquiesced in methods which threatened the livelihood of thousands of his fellow citizens. He was held up as a model citizen and he turned out to be a common thief.—Toronto World.

In view of the revelations made by the Hendricks testimony it is seemly to suggest that when the senate of the United States shall again convene Chauncey M. Depew of New York and John F. Dryden of New Jersey should pair with Joseph R. Burton of Kansas and John H. Mitchell of Oregon.—New York World.

Once Chauncey Depew was the joy of the land. His little speeches, his little stories and his unceasing optimism made him good to see and good to have. He was "Chauncey the peach," and he did not deny it. There may always be sad depths of sorrow beneath a smiling, happy surface, but who would have looked for the grim, vile specter shaped in which Chauncey is now revealed. He is spotted with graft. The split hoofs are plain to be seen. The sulphurous smell cannot be dodged. He cannot smile while he tries to explain the legal services which he rendered to the Equitable during the years of his $20,000 per. He cannot jest as he mentions the $250,000 loan which he aided the Depew Improvement Company to obtain from the Equitable on property now worth little more than half that amount. There are no neat little speeches he can make about his verbal guarantee that the debt would be paid—a guarantee he admits had no legal validity. Alas! poor Chauncey. The peachy bloom is gone. The worm is at the core. He is in the barrel in the back alley, along with the other specimens of rotten fruit that must be carted off by the garbage man.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Mr. Depew says whenever the Equitable asked him for advice "it was freely given," but the evidence discloses that it was well paid for.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Alexander, Hyde, Depew, Harriman, and all the rest of the free-booters who have made the Equitable their field of pillage, should be brought to book in the criminal courts if any chance whatever exists in convicting them. It seems that they must have been guilty of violating the statutes of New York while they have been riding rough shod over every obligation of the moral law. Nothing else will clear the air.—Cleveland Leader.

When Senator Depew received an annual salary of $20,000 for hypothetical legal advice to the Equitable it was quite natural that he should vote to raise the salary of an Equitable official to $100,000 a year. Thus one good turn deserved another. There is a loud demand on the part of many policy-holders of the Equitable for Senator Depew's resignation as one of its directors. All the facts in the case demonstrate the reasonableness of this demand. The question is whether he ought not also to resign his seat in the United States senate.—Philadelphia Record.

In the light of the latest exposures in the Equitable, it seems like waste of time and money for Senator Depew to go abroad to take a course of mud baths.—Washington Post.

It may be noted sorrowfully that Hon. Chauncey M. Depew is among those eminent persons whom Mr. Jerome revealed in a new light to the men of the west. Why should Mr. Lawson and Mr. Jerome go to Kansas to smash the idols of the east? This is an off year in politics. Are they journeying far and pouring out their eloquence solely for the public good? What's up?—Baltimore Sun.

They used to wonder how a man of Chauncey Depew's high standing could consent to associate, even casually, with professional politicians. Perhaps there were times, especially after he had made a speech on the higher ideals, when Chauncey used to wonder at it himself.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

One on Jim Hill.

James J. Hill keeps the closest track of all details regarding the properties which he controls and this fact is known to his subordinates. While journeying on the Great Northern road some time ago, examining work that was being done on an extension, he asked the division superintendent how many ties had been cut. The superintendent did not know, but he felt that it would never do to let Mr. Hill become aware of the fact. He hesitated a moment and then boldly hazarded, "Up to this morning the count showed 78,000-78,420, the exact number, I believe." The crisis was passed, but the superintendent feared trouble was ahead. At the next station he left the car and sent his message to the division engineer who was to meet the train at a later stop: "If J. H. asks how many ties have been cut tell him 78,420." True to the suspicion of the superintendent, Mr. Hill later asked the engineer how many ties had been cut. "Seventy-eight thousand four hundred and twenty," was the ready response of the engineer, evidently a little to the surprise of Mr. Hill.—Kansas City Journal.

A Girdle of Eggs.

"If all the eggs handled in St. Louis last year were strung like pearls on a string," writes a Missouri poultry enthusiast, "they would encircle the earth seven times at the equator." Conceive, if you can, this dignified member of the solar system sweeping through the cerulean vastness of the nebular hypothesis at a seven league stride and wearing a seven strand belt woven of Missouri hen fruit plucked last year! Such an excursion would cause a cataclysm that would turn cosmos back into chaos; the milky way would curdle into clabber; Saturn would draw his rings closer in a shivering shrug; Venus would dart into the sun for protection, and old Jupiter, the planetary heavyweight, would call upon the comets and the meteorites and the shooting stars to hit anywhere above or below the belt, but for heaven's sake not to hit on the belt.—Kansas City Star.

The Milliner.

I am wearied at sight of the stiff painted flowers,
The lilac which never knew sunshine or showers,
The mock yellow cowslip, the buds of strange hue;
No streamlet o'er kissed this forget-me-not blue.

In this hot, stifling city no winds ever play
O'er pink and white clover fields sweet-scented hay,
And I long for the westerly soft-fanning breeze
Which stirs in light whispers the shady elm trees.

There's a lane with high banks, where the trailing wild rose
Shyly opens and blushes its charms to disclose;
Where the woodbine and ivy wreaths lovingly cling
And the thrush and the nightingale pipe in the spring.

Far away o'er the streets and tall spires of the town
I watch the red sun as it slowly sinks down;
And I know that the moonlight will shine in that lane,
As I turn with dim eyes to Life's Duty again.

PICKED UP IN LOBBIES.

When the Railway Stations Hum.

What with outgoing troops of the national guard, outpouring Pittsburghers to Atlantic City and a thousand other points and incoming Elks from the Buffalo convention, the Pittsburgh railway stations could be hardly other than humming hives last evening. The Atlantic City travelers were limited, of course, to the Pennsylvania railroad's second special excursion to the favorite resort, and their presence made the Union station waiting rooms and lobbies a mass of people. The excursion was heavier than the former one of the Pennsylvania two weeks ago, and hardly was he that awaited securing big sleeping car berth until the last moment. The morning travel to the seashore had also been heavy.

The home-coming of the Elks was noticeable at the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh stations, although the delegations were not so large as when the lodges left for Buffalo a few days ago. The members are returning in a scattered manner. The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie brought two car loads of the boys at 8 o'clock and will have a couple of cars today. The Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh brought some of the local district Elks and others from nearby towns into the Water street station. All the Elks reports an enjoyable convention. Many of the members are making side trips into Canada or over the lakes.

"Leader" Tourists to Start.

The tour of Europe party of the Pittsburgh "Leader," including the 10 women of Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia who won in the recent coupon contest for popularity, left Pittsburgh at 7:10 o'clock last evening over the Pennsylvania railroad for New York, whence the party will sail for Europe. The party was in charge of W. C. Nevin and W. T. Moorman of the "Leader," and numbered altogether 9 persons. A dinner was tendered the members of the party by the Leader Publishing Company at the Union club at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Miss Emma Marloff will represent the Pittsburgh Teachers' association in a visit to Andrew Carnegie at Skibo castle to interest him in a proposition to establish a pension for superannuated teachers. She carries with her letters from Dr. W. J. Holland, Prof. John A. Brashear and others. And Mr. Carnegie has manifested his willingness to meet with Miss Marloff and talk over the matter.

Tobacco People Will Enjoy Outing.

The 2,000 employes of the Duquesne Cigar Company in Pittsburgh, together with some of their friends, will enjoy tomorrow an outing at Altiquippa park. They will be taken to the park in four special trains on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie road. This is possibly the largest single picnic party of the Lake Erie for the park this season.

Twenty-five soldiers from the Allegheny arsenal left in a special car over the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railway last night for Sackets Harbor, where they will enjoy an outing.

People Here and There.

Murry A. Verner went to New York last night.

Joseph Wood, second vice president of the Pennsylvania lines west, occupied a special car going to New York last night.

W. E. Perry, assistant chief clerk to the general manager of the Pennsylvania lines west, went to Atlantic City last night to join his family.

Mrs. Daniel Olmsted and children left last night for Atlantic City, where they will spend the summer. Mr. Olmsted, who is proprietor of the Hotel Adrier, will join them next week.

George Klinefelter of the United States battleship, West Virginia, in the Flying Squadron, is enjoying a seven-day furlough at his home in Sharpsburg. Klinefelter has the reputation among his associates of being one of the best riflemen in the navy.

Reminder of Winter Time.

A man with an overcoat, and wearing it, too, jus tas if he had no sense of comfort if not of propriety, walked into the Union station from an Erie train last evening with the crowd. He was as unconcerned as any of the passengers and fared not a rap for the smiles. "He doesn't belong in Pittsburgh, evidently enough," remarked one of the Pittsburghers who was awaiting his chance to get to his Atlantic City train. "No, and he don't belong in der east," chipped in a German who had just come in from the St. Louis limited carrying his coat.

SUPERIOR COURT FAVORS FOOD LAW

Declares It Constitutional and Sustains Lower Court—Many Decisions Handed Down.

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—The superior court held a short session in this city today for the purpose of handing down decisions and then adjourned until the first Monday in October.

Spencer, convicted of selling hamburger steak containing illegal preservatives.

Spencer was fined $50 and costs after a long and bitterly fought trial in the lower court.

WANT PURE LIQUORS.

Wholesale Liquor Dealers Will Aid Dr. Warren in Passing an Honest Booze Law.

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—(Special.)—As the result of the announcement by State Food Commissioner B. H. Warren that Pennsylvania is fairly flooded with adulterated liquors and without a law to prevent their sale, the executive committee of the Wholesale Liquor Dealers' association met today and decided to aid in the drafting for passage by the next legislature of a bill which will prescribe severe penalties for the offenders.

The meeting was behind closed doors in the association quarters in the Bourse, and at its conclusion those present declined to make public what action was taken. It is understood, however, that the action was embodied in a communication that was mailed to Dr. Warren last evening.

INDEPENDENTS MEET TODAY.

Sheet Steel and Tin Plate Manufacturers Will Likely Sign Scale.

The independent sheet steel and tin plate manufacturers will meet this morning at the Hotel Lincoln to consider signing the scale with the Amalgamated association. The scale under consideration is that which the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company signed a week ago.

The officers of the Amalgamated have been invited to attend the meeting, and it is considered practically certain that the scale will be signed.

At Burke six people were injured, including James Jensen, his wife and baby, the latter two of whom may die.

Altoona Visited by Big Storm.

ALTOONA, PA., July 13.—(Special.)—A frightful storm, accompanied by sharp lightning and heavy thunder, broke over Altoona this evening. Surrounding territory also suffered.

THIRTEEN MORE VICTIMS DEAD OF HEAT IN NEW YORK

One Man Lost Consciousness and Fell, Breaking His Neck—Many Steamer Passengers Overcome by the High Temperature.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 13.—Thirteen deaths attributed to the hot weather were recorded in New York today. In addition a score or more of persons were overcome by the heat and are under treatment in the city hospitals.

Despite a drenching rainfall during the forenoon and scattered showers throughout the day, the thermometer rose to a maximum of 85 degrees. During the afternoon the drop was more decided than for the past five days and tonight a strong westerly breeze is bringing a share of relief. The high humidity and the continuance throughout the night of temperatures varying only slightly from those of the hottest hours of the day, have caused the heavy fatality attending the present hot spell in this city.

John McCarroon, complaining of illness induced by the heat and sent to his home in Third avenue, lost consciousness as he was ascending the stairs and fell backward, breaking his neck.

Stricken suddenly by the heat as he was working on a roof in the Bronx, Samuel Schultz, a painter, fell five stories to the ground and was instantly killed.

Many children were included in the death list.

Nineteen of the 25 persons removed from the steamer Alianca for observation yesterday upon her arrival from the isthmus were released today. They had been removed from the steamer to the detention hospital because they were suffering from excess temperature. The remaining six are held for further observation.

FOUR PERSONS SUCCUMB TO THE INTENSE HEAT

Woman Found at Ingram Is Taken to Hospital and Refuses to Reveal Name.

With the thermometer above 80 degrees during most of the day, Pittsburgh suffered yesterday from the rather intense condition.

The atmosphere was tempered somewhat by a cooling breeze that lasted late into the evening and for this reason, perhaps, there were but few cases of heat prostration reported during the day. On the South Side either the unusual heat or the activity of the residents in that district was greater than in other sections, for the majority of those who succumbed to the prevailing warmth lived on that side of the Monongahela.

A woman who refuses to reveal her name or place of residence was overcome at Ingram and was removed to the Homeopathic hospital. It was at first thought she was poisoned, but an examination disproved this. The woman heard it intimated that she had attempted to take her life and for this reason refused to give her name.

Kosolonski Japankoski, aged about 30, fell while at work in Byers mill, on the South Side, and was taken to the South Side hospital. His condition is serious and his recovery doubtful.

Henry Lehmyr, aged 30, of 1715 Carson street, was overcome while standing at South Twelfth and Carson streets. He was taken home.

Joseph Miller, aged 45 and homeless, was found lying at Carson and Seventeenth street and was taken to the South Side hospital.

LOST IN THE WOODS.

Allegheny Woman Wanders from Home While Delirious and Is Found Unconscious in West View.

Mrs. Margaret Parker, aged 32, wife of Edwin Parker of Perrysville avenue, Allegheny, is in the Allegheny General hospital in a critical condition, the result of exposure. The woman was found early yesterday morning in an unconscious condition in the woods in West View. The crew of a street car discovered her lying near the tracks and took her to the hospital in the car. It was not known for several hours who she was, and as she remained unconscious nothing could be learned from her. Her relatives found her during the day.

The woman has been suffering with typhoid fever for some time and on Wednesday night dressed herself, presumably while delirious, and putting on a raincoat rode to the end of the West View line. She was overcome by weakness and fell. It is supposed she lay all night where she fell. The hospital physicians are doubtful as to her recovery.

Train Strikes Car and Hurls Woman.

One woman was injured and the passengers on an Aspinwall traction car were given a bad scare at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, when an engine shifting cars on the siding of the Spang-Chalfant Company's mill collided with the car. Mrs. James Lowry of 139 Fifth street, Aspinwall, had her right foot crushed between the car and a telegraph pole, against which the car was thrown. The pole was broken in two. Motorman Frank Dougherty was unable to stop his car at the crossing because of a slippery track. The platform of the car was smashed.

Stage Employes Discuss Problems.

The members of the National Association of Theatrical Stage Employes spent all day yesterday and last evening in a discussion of a number of points of trade interest. Problems in Canada, Oklahoma and in New York occupied their attention.

ODD FELLOWS INSPECT THE HOME FOR THE AGED

Multitude Gathers at Grove City to Celebrate Opening of the Home. Surplus in Treasury.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

GROVE CITY, PA., July 13.—A multitude of visitors from Western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio gathered here today to help celebrate the third anniversary of the first contribution of $1 toward a fund for a home for aged Odd Fellows and their wives. The day was known as "Inspection Day," and it afforded for the first time an opportunity for all to see the magnificent new building, "Wayside Inn," furnished so far as required for present needs.

Train after train unloaded its hundreds at the grounds with several thousand of the passengers coming from Allegheny, while an almost unbroken string of carriages from the rural districts added to the throng.

The exercises of the day were of an informal nature. Several interesting addresses were given, the principal speakers being Melvin Chubbick of Bradford county, grand master of the state; Cleon Jacquinous of Pittsburgh, grand patriarch of the state encampment, and Mrs. Laura Morry of Allegheny, past grand president of the Rebekahs of the state.

The new home, which was dedicated one year ago and which has since been furnished almost completely through the generosity of the different lodges, contains 60 rooms.

The full board of directors of the home held their business meeting Wednesday evening.

John Riley, aged 80 years, a member of R. Biddle Roberts lodge, Allegheny, who was visiting the home for the first time, was so pleased with it that he presented President White with a $100 bill to be used for the institution. Superintendent Cunningham will be retained for another year.

Policeman Is Prompt.

Prompt work on the part of Patrolman Frank Kirdowski prevented what might have been a serious blaze at South Twelfth and Carson streets last evening. The officer was passing when he noticed the frame work around the window in the office of Dr. A. V. Riggs was on fire. Rushing up he found the room unoccupied and the door locked. He forced the door open and soon extinguished the blaze. The fire, which was caused by a leak in a gas tube, did about $10 damage.

Train Jarred the Wall Down.

TITUSVILLE, PA., July 13.—(Special.)—Lorenzo Ellsworth was fatally injured this afternoon by the falling of a brick wall. He was watching a teamster remove the brick from around an oil still near the Pennsylvania railroad, and as a train came thundering along, a wall nearby crumbled, crushing him. It is thought the train jarring the wall caused the accident.

Peoples Bank Case Up Today.

ST. LOUIS, July 13.—Action on the motion to dissolve the receivership of the Peoples United States bank, which was filed late yesterday in the circuit court at Clayton, has been postponed until tomorrow in order that Attorney General Hadley, who asked for the appointment of a receiver, may be heard regarding his reason for a continuance of a receiver.

"My child was a very delicate baby. A terrible sore and humor broke out on his body, looking like raw flesh, and causing the child untold agony. My physician prescribed various remedies, none of which helped at all. SUDDEN SUSPENSION OF YELLOW SPRINGS BANK

Withdrawal of Deposits During Last Two Months Cause of the Institution Closing.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

SPRINGFIELD, O., July 13.—The Citizens bank of Yellow Springs, a private institution, failed to open its doors this morning. There had not been the slightest intimation that the bank was in trouble until after banking hours this morning, when the following notice was found on the door: "Bank closed. Cause, withdrawal of deposits during the last two months. Could not turn fast enough to meet it longer. Will do our best to relieve depositors."

The bank is thought to owe depositors between $25,000 and $30,000. Its president, J. F. Stewart, S. S. Puckett, the cashier and the latter's wife, L. W. Puckett, are the owners. It has the village and school board funds, practically all the lodge and church money and nearly all the individual deposits of the village. Business has practically been suspended in the town and there is great excitement.

Puckett stated tonight that he had received a heavy shipment of currency today, and had he known of its arrival he would not have suspended business.

Get President to Dispel Hoodoo.

WILKESBARRE, PA., July 13.—(Special.)—The county officials, who for the past two years have been struggling with the hoodoo which is on the new $1,000,000 court house, hope to dispel it by having President Roosevelt lay the corner stone when he comes to this city on August 10. The effort to erect it has occasioned constant bickerings and legal disputes and has cost the county $100,000 in two years, during which only the foundations were laid.

Celebrate Golden Wedding.

NEW CASTLE, PA., July 13.—(Special.)—The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. William S. McKibben was quietly observed tonight at a family dinner party. LANDLORD'S SUIT ENDS IN A SHOCKING CRIME

Sharon Baker Commits Suicide After Trying to Kill Prosecutor's Daughter.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

SHARON, PA., July 13.—Worried over financial troubles Emil Burger, aged 50, shot and killed himself this afternoon at his bakery in Vine street, after attempting to kill Miss Gussie Lurie, a daughter of Harry Lurie, Sr., his landlord.

This morning an attachment for $50 rent was issued against him by Lurie. He purchased a revolver, evidently deciding to kill himself. When he was returning he passed Lurie's house. Seeing Miss Lurie lying on a couch he pointed the revolver through a window and opened fire on her. Without waiting to see if he had hit her he walked rapidly to his own place of business. Before he reached his bakery he saw a policeman approaching.

The constable who issued the attachment had locked the door, but Berger smashed a window and crawled through. He then turned the weapon on himself and sent a bullet through his head, dying within a few minutes. Burger leaves a widow and one son.

KEPT MARRIAGE SECRET FOR TWELVE YEARS

SHARON, PA., July 13.—(Special.)—After keeping it a secret for 12 years Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones of Fairview township, this county, announced their marriage to their friends this week. Opposition on the part of the bride's parents led the young couple to elope to Jamestown, N. Y., in 1893. She was Miss Mabel Brooks and at the time was just 17, while Jones was 18. They decided not to inform any one of their marriage and it is not likely the secret would have been revealed had not Mrs. Brooks in looking for a receipt happened to find the marriage certificate. When confronted with such strong evidence the bride confessed the marriage. The couple have received parental forgiveness.

Arrest Youths for Robbery.

BUTLER, PA., July 13.—(Special.)—Their supply of revolvers on the Fourth of July has led to the arrest of John Fields of Elliots Mills, Lawrence county, and Clarence and William Angert and Warren Stephenson of Butler, boys ranging from 13 to 16 years of age. The Death Roll.

Prof. Frank Henry Clemment.

Prof. Frank Henry Clemment, a well-known musician of this city, died yesterday morning at Southern Pines, N. C., after several years' illness of tuberculosis. He had intended coming home this week to spend several weeks with his parents, and he was feeling greatly improved. Two weeks ago he became much worse. His father hurried to his bedside and was with him at the time of his death. Prof. Clemment was born at Carlsbad, Germany, March 9, 1881, and came to this city with his parents when 5 years old. He was a son of Frank and Theresa Maschak Clemment, his father being first violin in the Bijou theater. He was educated in the public and high schools of this city, after which he continued the study of music, which he had begun at the age of 5. He studied under the late Prof. Frederic Archer, and was for six years organist of the Immaculate Heart church, Brereton avenue, East End. He was married two years ago to Miss Nellie Kalnowfski, who, with his parents, a brother, Herman, and a sister, Bertha, survives him. The body will arrive in this city this evening at 6:45 o'clock, and will be taken to the home of his parents, 6606 Broad street.

She leaves, besides her husband, one daughter, Mrs. M. L. Wools of Cleveland, Vernon Graham of Allegheny and several brothers and sisters in Lawrence and Mercer counties.

WANT CLARK TO RESIGN.

Lincoln School Board Doesn't Want Him as Its Representative on Central Board.

The board of directors of the Lincoln sub-district school has asked County Commissioner James A. Clark to resign his office as representative on the central board of education from that district and he has refused. Clark was elected to the central board in February, 1904, and it is said he told the board he would resign at any time the board asked him to do so. Since his election the personnel of the board has changed and the majority hold it is incompatible for him to be a member of the central board and a county commissioner at the same time. A. V. D. Watterson, the board's attorney, wrote to Clark shortly before he went west nearly two weeks ago, but Clark refused to follow the board's advice. No further action will be taken until Clark returns to the city.

The board is also having trouble with the new addition to the Larimer avenue school, which was recently erected at a cost of $100,000. It is charged the building has not been built according to the plans and specifications, but this the architect denies. It is said the board has refused to accept the building unless the necessary changes are made.

GREAT RACE OF WARSHIPS.

"Fighting Bob" Evans' Fleet Has Exciting Speed Test Until Fog Interferes.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 13.—(Special.)—A race was an incident of the run of the first squadron of the North Atlantic fleet from Provincetown to Newport yesterday, but a thick fog set in and Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans had to signal for lower speed just when the excitement was at its highest. While the race lasted, Rear Admiral Evans learned that his flagship Maine was the slowest of his eight vessels, for when the race was called off she was the last of the long line of battleships.

This afternoon Rear Admiral Evans turned the command over to Rear Admiral Charles H. Davis, division commander, and went to Washington. The fleet is the largest ever at anchor in Narragansett bay. The ships will leave here Sunday and a forced draught race, lasting practically from this port to the capes of Delaware, will ensue.

MACCABEES WIN SUIT.

Pittsburgh Man, Who Sued to Prevent Increase of Assessment, Loses His Case.

PORT HURON, MICH., July 13.—Judge Law, in the circuit court, today handed down his opinion in the case of Dan St. Clair Wineland of Pittsburgh, against the Knights of the Maccabees of the World, in which Wineland protested against the rise in rates adopted by the supreme tent at its biennial session a year ago.

Judge Law dismissed the bill of complaint with costs to the defendant. The decision was based on the clause in the laws of the supreme tent governing applications for membership, which reads as follows: "This application and the constitution and laws of the supreme tent now in force or that may hereafter be adopted are made the sole basis of the contract between myself and the supreme tent."

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

The following marriage licenses were issued yesterday:

James Shaw, Katherine Hunter; E. J. Harbaugh, Estell E. Ingram, all of Pittsburgh.

Frank C. Cook, Sara M. Eled, Sewickley.

Peter Stewart, Smithfield, Pa., Velletta Feeney, Masontown, Pa.; Samuel Smith, Pittsburgh, Lydia Williams, Allegheny; D. A. Williams, Pittsburgh, Julia Braddock, Logan, O.

In times of bereavement one who can give advice or assistance in business matters is often of great help. If the services of this company in any trust capacity would be of value to you, we would be glad to consider the matter with you. The Safe Deposit and Trust Company of Pittsburgh, Fourth avenue and Wood street.

LAWSON WILL MAKE FULL RESTITUTION

Knows Now He Robbed the American People and He Will Give It All Back.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., July 13.—Thomas W. Lawson, of Boston, was the guest of the Minneapolis Commercial club today. Mr. Lawson spoke before 300 members of the club after luncheon. He said in part:

"I have several millions myself and I wronged the American people in getting it. But I did not know it at the time. When the time comes I will give that money back to them.

"John D. Rockefeller is worth $500,000,000, and I can sit down and show you in a week's time how he got every penny of it. There is no secret about it. Every dollar that John Rockefeller has he got dishonestly.

"If I live I'm going to make the American people sell every dollar's worth of stock they have, and by that time they'll know better than to buy back."

Mr. Lawson scored the Equitable Life Assurance Company heavily.

COMMANDER PEARY IS NOW SHORT A DOCTOR

Physician of the Expedition Tenders His Resignation and Another Is Now Needed.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 13.—The Peary arctic expedition is without a surgeon-physician because of the unexpected withdrawal of a well-known doctor, who had been engaged for the dash to the north pole. The resignation was received today by Commander Peary and came as a hard blow to the explorer, who, since all the necessary funds for completing the Roosevelt's equipment were assured, had made preparations for sailing from the North river tomorrow. The ship will be unable to start until Saturday afternoon.

Several surgeons, each of whose income exceeds $5,000 a year, were told of Commander Peary's plight this afternoon, and two of them said they would in all probability make application to the explorer to be taken along as official physician.

"It is an awful temptation," said one, "I am afraid I shall have to send in my name."

Another $5,000 check to help defray the expenses of the final fitting out of the Roosevelt was received today from Rudolph Kleybolte, the banker of 27 Pine street.

LOCK PASSENGERS IN BARN.

Picknickers Who Refused to Pay Night Fare Are Imprisoned by Company.

Several persons returning from the orphans' picnic at Calhoun park were locked up in the Belizhoover car barn for several hours last night. Several of the passengers, said to be members of the picnic committee, were supplied with tickets said to be valued at 5 cents. They boarded a car at the park, and when the conductor came to collect fare he refused the tickets, saying that as the car was on night run the fare was 10 cents.

The passengers refused to pay the extra 5 cents and also declined to leave the car. The conductor telephoned the superintendent and was ordered to run the car into the barn. The passengers amused themselves for several hours. At 2:25 a. m. they were allowed to depart.

Martin Redinger of Arthur street, Pittsburgh, was in Braddock looking for his daughter, Alice, aged 20, who ran away from home. She had been traced to Braddock by means of letters received from a girl friend.

Postoffice Inspector Frank A. O'Brien yesterday received word from Hawthorne, Ill., that Michael Kolinski was arrested there for forging a postofce order at Hays, Pa., during January, 1904.

Joseph Smigel of Wisconsin received a letter purporting to have been written by his brother Peter in Austria, stating he wanted to come to this country and to send him some money. Later he received a second letter from Hays, supposed to be from his brother, saying he had arrived in this country, was at Hays, and needed $50. The money was sent and Kolinski, it is alleged, forged the name of Peter Smigel to the order and collected the money.

PRESIDENT HENRY ON FIREPROOFING BONDS

Says Issue of $2,500,000 Will Wipe Out Floating Indebtedness and Furnish Working Capital.

At the board meeting of the National Fireproofing Company yesterday, President W. D. Henry made a statement covering the issue of bonds on behalf of the National company by its subsidiary, the Federal Clay Manufacturing Company.

He stated that the issue of $2,500,000 of bonds of the Federal is to take care of floating indebtedness and to furnish working capital. The floating indebtedness is placed at $1,460,000, which is said to be more than offset by cash on hand and collectible accounts receivable. The amount of material in yards awaiting shipment, manufactured on orders, is said to be $557,183 31.

The stockholders of the National will, it is stated, be given an opportunity to subscribe for the bonds when arrangements for the issue are completed.

President Henry also states that during the first five months of 1905, as compared with the same months of 1904, the operating expenses have greatly decreased and the business and net earnings very materially increased.

STRIKING TAILORS RIOT.

Proprietor of Shop Fatally Hurt and Many Others Injured in a Fierce Battle.

NEW YORK, July 13.—One man was probably fatally injured, more than a score were slightly hurt and hundreds were involved in a riot of striking tailors today in Wallabout street, Brooklyn. Not until the crowd had wrecked the clothing factory of Isaac Newman did the police disperse the crowd. Two arrests were made.

Newman was struck on the head by an iron bar, receiving a fracture of the skull. One hundred and twenty-five men employed in Newman's factory struck two days ago and disturbances around the factory have been frequent since. Today strikers called at the factory to induce a score or more employes at work to leave. A pitched battle resulted.

MAY CHOOSE M'COOK.

Pittsburgh Lawyer Has Been Suggested for Place on Equitable Board.

Attorney Willis J. McCook of Pittsburgh, who for 15 years has been an attorney for the Equitable Life Assurance society, has been suggested as one of the 14 members of the board of directors who will be elected today.

Mr. McCook returned yesterday from New York, but said that he had not been consulted on the subject at all and knew nothing more than what he saw in the New York papers. In reply to a question he said he considered it improbable that H. C. Frick of Pittsburgh would accept a re-election to the board.

START FOR CAMP IS AUSPICIOUS

Second Brigade Soldiery Entrain in Good Shape for the Encampment at Erie.

MARTIAL SCENES ON STREET

With carefree merriment, 2,000 members of the Second brigade of Pennsylvania's National Guard started from Pittsburgh last evening on the all-night ride in day coaches for Erie, where the annual encampment will open this morning.

There were a few stragglers who lingered too long by the seductive beer stores. There were maidens who bade as fond farewell to the departing wearers of uniforms as if the destination of the trains were a seat of real war. There were the usual number of boys who tried to run away from home to join the commands. Most of these came to grief at the station gates. There was the steady tramp of marching soldiery in the streets and the railroad stations, the martial airs from the bands and the glad hands from the street crowds. Altogether the start for camp this year was decidedly auspicious.

Every command in the Second brigade moves this year under its own commander. Of these commands only one, Sheridan Troop, goes to camp with a new leader. Col. Frank I. Rutledge headed the Eighteenth. Col. W. Emory Thompson commanded the Fourteenth. Capt. W. T. Rees guided Battery B. Col. Rufus Elder was in charge of the Fifth, and Col. James E. Barnett commanded the gallant "Fighting Tenth." Under the command of Gen. Willis J. Hulings the Sixteenth started from Oil City for camp.

All of the commands except the Eighteenth went from the Union station over the Pennsylvania lines. The Eighteenth had its special train over the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie.

Word from Camp Jones is not cheering. The details which went ahead found the ground low and wet and the best efforts of the brigade and regimental officers will be needed to fix up the site in such a way as to make its occupancy as sanitary as a camp should be.

LETTER FROM METCALF.

The Rev. Dr. Donehoo's Complaint to President Roosevelt Is Turned Over to Secretary.

In reply to a letter written to President Roosevelt by the Rev. Dr. E. R. Donehoo, pastor of the West End Presbyterian church, against the way in which the department of commerce and labor enforces the laws relating to the Chinese exclusion act, Mr. Donehoo has received a letter from Victor H. Metcalf, secretary of the department, in which he promises reforms in dealing with Chinamen. Dr. Donehoo pointed out in his letter cases which have come under his personal notice and asked that the enforcement of the law be placed in the hands of the war department.

The letter from Secretary Metcalf reminds Dr. Donehoo that he wrote the department in November, 1904, and expressed great satisfaction in the department's manner of dealing with Chinese who come to the United States. Dr. Donehoo has sent Secretary Metcalf a letter explaining his letter of 1904 and besides cites cases in which the officers of the department have failed to do their duty in cases in which Chinese merchants of Pittsburgh were concerned and have mistreated them. Secretary Metcalf in his letter promises Dr. Donehoo that more care will be exercised in the future.

LAWOREK MAY BE DEAD.

Declares He Will Drown Himself Before He Loses a Finger and Is Now Missing.

"I'd rather be a dead man than lose my finger," said John Laworek, aged 28, of 922 White street, McKeesport, to his boarding boss, Steve Motorkanich, two weeks ago when he rushed into the house from the McKeesport hospital, where he had been taken from the Monongahela blast furnaces after an accident. His hand was crushed and physicians at the hospital told him a finger would have to be amputated.

Laworek ran from the institution to his boarding house, where he declared he would drown himself before the day was over. He unpacked his trunk and distributed his valuables and trinkets among his friends. His actions were taken as a joke, but Laworek's friends have changed their minds and now believe the man carried out his intention to kill himself.

Laworek failed to put in an appearance the following day and has not been seen since. When he left his boarding house he said he was going to the Monongahela river and was seen making his way down Center street. A diligent search and inquiry has failed to enlighten Laworek's friends as to his whereabouts, and it is confidently believed he drowned himself.

RECEIPTS AT POSTOFFICE ARE CONSIDERABLY LARGER

Receipts at the Pittsburgh postoffice for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1905, increased $151,405.26 over the same period of 1904. The receipts for the 12 months amounted to $1,662,405.26 and for 1904 were $1,511,000. The figures are taken from the sale of stamps, stamped envelopes and stationery and is thought by the local postal officials to be due to the increase in business in this city. During June of this year $141,608.64 was taken in, while $126,164.29 were taken in during June, 1904, the increase being $15,442.35. All records for sales of 2-cent stamps on July 3 was broken this year. On that date $300,000 worth of 2-cent stamps were sold, which was $50,000 more than any one day's sale previously made.

River Wall Collapsed.

The guide wall on the Allegheny bank of the river just below the Herr's Island dam is in a state of collapse. Almost 100 feet of the wall fell into the river yesterday and the stream has undermined other portions. The entire wall will have to be rebuilt at a cost of more than $5,000.

CAMP GROUND AT ERIE IS DEEP WITH WATER AND MUD

Bullfrogs Among the Horrors of War Which Drive Sleep from Soldier's Eyes After a Hard Day's Work.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM JOHN P. COWAN, Staff Correspondent.

ERIE, PA., July 13.—Two thousand soldiers of the National Guard of Pennsylvania tonight are encamped under the white tents on the Erie marshes, which will be known in history as Camp Captain C. W. S. Jones. The Fifth and the Sixteenth regiments arrived at sunset and preparations are being made for the other organizations of the Second brigade which are expected to be under the canvas at dawn tomorrow.

The camp, which has been named in honor of the late commander of the Sheridan troop of Tyrone, will be formally opened Saturday morning. The tents of the infant organizations are pitched in a swamp. Heavy rains which have prevailed during the last week have converted the flat ground into a veritable morass, overgrown with harsh, coarse grass and weeds and abounding in pools and gullies. The soil is soft and the quartermaster's wagons, in hauling supplies across the field today, sank to the hubs in the mud. The tents of some of the officers cover places where water was six inches deep this afternoon. The same conditions prevailed in many of the company streets.

Capt. Murray G. Livingston, quartermaster of the Fourteenth regiment, superintended his work in a pair of wading boots, and Lieut. J. O. Corbett was driven to the same extremity after losing his shoes in the mud. In front of the headquarters tent of the Fourteenth is a long ditch abounding in pollywogs, and the slumbers of the men in the advance details tonight were disturbed by the bullfrogs' croak.

The Sixteenth and Eighteenth regiments have the worst locations. In the company and regimental streets the wagons had difficulty in making their way. The Fourteenth, Tenth and Fifth have ground provided with slightly better drainage. Battery B, the Sheridan troop, and Troop F of New Castle, are placed to the right of brigade headquarters and have an ideal location.

The advance details reached Erie early this morning and at dawn began the work of pitching the canvas. By noon all had made good progress. The farmers and teamsters were accomplishing wonders in transporting the impedimenta from the trains to the camp site, and it looked as if every tent in Camp Jones would be up before sunset. At noon a storm came up. Tents were blown over, the rain poured down in torrents and the teamsters ran to cover. The soldiers were willing to endure the rain and struggled to finish their task, but the farmers refused to expose themselves, and wagons loaded with material for the camps were halted under the trees and on the side of outbuildings along the road. The storm continued until 3 o'clock. When the rain ceased the camp ground was converted into a swamp, where in many places the water covered the ankles of the workers.

The hope is expressed that the camp will be cheerful enough with a day of bright sunshine. Gen. John A. Wiley was not discouraged by the rain. "The sandy nature of the soil," he said, "should transform the swampy ground into a dry loam with a day or two of warm sunshine. I was here in April and it was dry. Again in May I found it well suited for a camp. Unfortunately, we have had an unprecedented rainfall during the last week and today's storm has added to the discomforts which the men are obliged to endure.

NEW RULES FOR DOMINANT PARTY

Candidates to Be Nominated by Direct Vote, Additional Inspectors Provided.

LESLIE AGREES TO CHANGES

The joint committee on rules of the Republican county organization and of the city committees of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and McKeesport, yesterday agreed to recommend to the city committees some important modifications of the rules of the city organizations. These changes will make the city rules conform in many respects with the new rules proposed for the county committee.

M. G. Leslie, chairman of the Pittsburgh city committee, was present at yesterday's meeting. Mr. Leslie agreed to the changes; in fact, it was at his suggestion that some of the alterations in the present city rules were made.

Under the new rules to be recommended the candidates for city offices are to be nominated by the direct vote of the Republican electors at district primaries.

The new rules provide that any Republican who desires to be a candidate for a city office shall notify the chairman of his city committee and such notice must be in the hands of the city chairman at least within 15 days before the date set for the primary election. All names thus sent in will be certified to the officers of the district primary election boards and will be voted on at the primaries. Candidates for councilmen, school directors, ward and district officers are at present named at suggestion meetings and then voted for at primaries. In these cases the direct vote already prevails, but there has been so much talk of alleged packed suggestion meetings, secretly called together at out-of-the-way places, that a rule is now recommended providing that the suggestions must be made at a public meeting, held in a public place and after due public notice.

The joint committee also recommended that rule 2 of the rules of the Pittsburgh city committee and the corresponding rule of the McKeesport and Allegheny city committees be so changed as to permit each candidate for county committeeman to name an inspector in each election district in the cities. The members of the joint committee will also recommend the adoption of a rule by the city committees, by which each candidate for a city office shall be permitted to have an inspector at the primary polls in each election district. It will also recommend that candidates for councilmen and school directors be permitted to have inspectors at the polling places, but as the polling places would be crowded with inspectors if each candidate had the right to put one in, the rule will require that each one-half of all the candidates shall be entitled to one inspector.

The joint committee agreed to recommend to the city committees that the qualifications enabling a man to vote at Republican primaries be made to conform to the simple rule of the county committee. The changes mentioned are only recommendations to be made to the city committees. They may not be adopted until after the next county primaries.

MONEY MADNESS WILL BREED SOCIAL DISQUIET

Former Government Attorney Beck Talks to New York Bankers on "Moneyphobia."

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

FRONTENAC, N. Y., July 12.—James M. Beck, former assistant United States attorney general, today addressed the New York state bankers in convention here, on "Moneyphobia." He said:

"The signs of the times indicate a growing feeling of social discontent, which finds its chief expression in the indiscriminate abuse of wealth. Apart from the basest passion of class hatred there is now in progress a searching inquiry in the great court of public opinion as to the ethical significance of money and money making.

"Demagogues are making frenzied appeals to popular passion to proclaim a new crusade against property. One notorious agitator—in the cunning knavery, a John Law and in picturesque diction a Beaumarchais—is now frantically calling upon the masses to withdraw simultaneously all their bank deposits and sell all except government securities with full consciousness that his appeal, if heeded, would produce a world-wide financial cataclysm.

"The agitation, however, is not confined to the ignorant, the envious or the malicious. The recent commencement season unmistakably indicated that educated men are disinterestedly considering the phenomena of business in their moral aspects.

"The underlying causes of the present agitation are complex and conflicting. Its net effect will probably be for good, for in an age of overshadowing materialism, the great ethical considerations which underlie all social questions cannot be too carefully or frequently considered."

WOMEN BECOME HYSTERICAL WHEN POOL ROOM IS RAIDED

Plead to Be Saved from Disgrace When the Police Break Into the Place—Get Tips on Losers.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 13.—There was pandemonium in the Belasco club, in Twenty-second street, just west of Seventh avenue, this afternoon, when Sergeant Eggers and half a dozen of his men burst into the place and announced that it was raided. Eggers declared the club was only a cloak for a women's poolroom.

There were seven women and two men in the place when the police arrived. Three women became hysterical. Two dived under beds in the rear room of the club quarters. One dropped to her knees before Eggers and begged to be let out in order to save herself and her husband from disgrace. Eggers said he could not save her.

Each of the women gave her age as 25 years. Evidence against the place was procured for the police by a Miss Lewis who has previously acted for Eggers. She bet on Ocean Tide today, she says. Ocean Tide finished last.

It is alleged by the police that men frequented the Belasco club and after the races had been run "tipped" one of the losing starters as a sure winner.

HOMER HILLEBRAND SAVES THE PIRATES FROM DEFEAT

HILLEBRAND IS THE REAL THING

STARTS A BATTING RALLY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 13.—After allowing the Hanlonites to hold the lead for nearly five innings, the Pirates developed a timely batting streak in the fifth inning and piled up three runs, thereby gaining the lead for the remainder of the afternoon. Score: Pittsburgh 5; Brooklyn 3.

Manager Clarke was the "wise old owl" when he yanked Case out of the box after the second inning and allowing Homer Hildebrand to make his eastern debut in fashionable company. Case was wild as the proverbial March hare, and only the sharpest kind of fielding by his team mates prevented the locals from scoring in the first inning. Quick throws, however, by Clarke and Pietz nailed runners at third, both of whom reached first through Case's wildness.

The former Princetonian southpaw, in the language of the race track, proved to be Clarke's "one best bet." Besides only allowing the locals four scattered hits in seven innings, Hildebrand scored a run himself, started the batting rally in the fifth inning with a single to right field, and took part in a very nice play at first base on a throw from Howard. He only issued one pass and struck out six men. His debut was about the only feature of the game, as the batting was light compared to the other two games, and not a single fielding feature was pulled off by either side.

Not a visitor reached second until the third inning. Peitz led off with a single. Gibson, who batted for Lindaman, was hit by a pitched ball, and Clymer by a sprint beat out a bunt filling the corners. Clarke sent a long fly to Hall and Peitz easily scored the visitor's first run. Beaumont and Wagner closing the inning on easy outs.

Hildebrand's single in the fifth inning was followed by Clymer's double, and on Clarke's fly to Hall Homer crossed the plate with the tieing run. Beaumont fouled out to Clymer, stole third, and Wagner, after being passed, made a good steal of second. Both scored on Howard's rap. This ended the visitors' run-getting until the eighth inning when they managed to squeeze in another run, making five in all.

The Brooklyn's got their first two runs in the second inning aided by Case's wildness. Gessler's fly dropped safely in left, and was good for two bases. Case grabbed Bubb's pop fly, Malay scored Gessler with a tap to left. Bergen singled to right, sending Malay to third. In an attempted double steal, Malay was caught, Peitz, Wagner and Brain figuring in the fast play. McIntyre singled to left, scoring Bergen. McIntyre was forced by Dobbs, via Wagner and Ritchey. After this they had Hildebrand to contend with, and only secured one more run in the seventh inning. The score:

PRESIDENT WILL DELVE TO BOTTOM

Has Implicit Faith in Secretary Wilson and Will Push the Cotton Investigation.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY AT WORK

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 13.—There is nothing in President Roosevelt's attitude toward Secretary Wilson to suggest that the latter will retire from office. Mr. Roosevelt expects to get at the bottom of the cotton scandal at any cost. The present investigation will undoubtedly result in many radical changes of method, if not of personnel, in the department of agriculture. But Mr. Roosevelt has expressed his absolute faith in his secretary, Mr. Wilson. He is accused only of having too great confidence in the honesty of the men under him. The president explained to a friend that Secretary Wilson is so inherently honest himself that he could not bring himself to doubt the honesty of others.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 13.—The investigation by the United States district attorney, with the view of evolving sufficient evidence upon which to secure an indictment or indictments, will be begun today or tomorrow. A room has been set apart for his use in the department of agriculture, and the employes of the division of statistics again will be put through a rigid examination. District Attorney Beach will be aided by officers of the secret service.

It is stated that at the previous investigation the employes of this division, under the pledge of secrecy and of protection in their positions, should they divulge any information which would throw light on the subject, talked freely and frankly. The officials are feeling some concern as to whether or not the New York parties whose names already have been published, and others whose names have not been made known, can be prevailed upon to speak out.

SAVANNAH, GA., July 13.—At a special meeting of the directors of the Savannah cotton exchange today a resolution was passed asking the president to insist upon a full investigation, and calling for the punishment of those guilty of selling information of the department of agriculture in regard to the cotton crop. The Savannah exchange last September called upon the secretary of agriculture for an investigation of an alleged leak in his department, and received a reply emphatically declaring that there was no manner in which the information could be secured in advance. This entire correspondence has been forwarded to the president.

RATES MAY BE REGULATED.

Kentucky Railroad Commission Decides It May Control Express Companies.

FRANKFORT, KY., July 13.—The Kentucky railroad commission holds that under section 218 of the constitution of the state the express companies doing business in the state are common carriers, as are railroad corporations, and that it is within its province to regulate the rates where charges are made that said rates are exorbitant.

The ruling is announced in a case from Shelby county where the city office at Shelbyville collected $25 a year upon the Adams and Southern Express companies and they retaliated by adding one cent to the charge on each package in and out of town at certain times during the year.

BEAUTY DOCTOR SORELY PRESSED BY A PATIENT

Alleges He Took Her Thousands and Blistered Her Face for Wrinkles—Wrinkles Still Remain and Have Accompanying Scars

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 13.—Dr. Andrew L. Nelden, specialist in minor and plastic surgery, with a sanitarium at 13 East Twenty-ninth street, who was arrested Wednesday night charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, was held in $1,000 bail yesterday in Tombs court for examination on Monday. The complainant is Mrs. Josephine Ware, a dressmaker of Denver. Mrs. Ware said she paid Nelden $1,000 and was deceived in regard to the treatment, which consisted of a blistering process for the removal of wrinkles.

To a reporter Dr Nelden made denial of the charges. He said his treatment of Mrs. Ware had been successful and that spite alone induced her to take criminal action against him.

Dr. Nelden was graduated by the New York Homeopathic hospital 17 years ago. He began the treatment of skin diseases while practicing featural surgery. He came into prominence first in November, 1903, when he advertised for a man who was willing to sacrifice an ear for $5,000. The medical profession was interested in the operation, which Dr. Nelden admits was not entirely successful.

Three other women who have been treated unsuccessfully have made complaints. In the sanitarium is Mrs. Bella Scheren of Sheldon, Ia., who wanted her crooked nose straightened. She has paid $2o, and an Allegheny public school teacher also paid $100 to have unsightly scars removed from her face. Mrs. Wesley V. Allen of 56 Dixwell avenue, New Haven, was not satisfied with the way her ears stood out from her head, and wanted this defect remedied.

Lincoln Copeland of Larue, O., desired to have a large birthmark removed from his cheek and his freckles eradicated. He said he had paid the doctor $100 and was to give him $200 more.

Nelden is said to have amassed a fortune of $100,000.

EXCITING SCENE IN THE FRENCH CHAMBER

Minister of War Retires in a Pique—As Consequence Amnesty Bill Is Withdrawn.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

PARIS, July 13.—Parliament adjourned for the summer recess tonight after an exciting scene in the chamber of deputies over the clause in the amnesty bill (passed by the senate Wednesday) reinstating those convicted of drawing up secret reports concerning the conduct of army officers, during which M. Lasies (anti-Semite) violently attacked Gen. Andre, former minister of war, calling him a "reptile."

M. Berteaux, the minister of war, vigorously defended his predecessor, and stated that he declined to continue his support of the government's amnesty bill in consequence of the charge made. The minister then left the chamber. M. Berteaux' action aroused such confusion that the sitting was suspended and at an impromptu ministerial council it was decided to withdraw the bill.

On the resumption of the sitting Premier Rouvier announced the prorogation of the chamber, thus annulling the amnesty bill. In order, however, not to disappoint the public on the occasion of the national holiday, tomorrow, it has been arranged that the amnesties will be granted by presidential decree.

REBATES BY OIL CONCERNS IS A COMMON PRACTICE

Former Employe of a Missouri Company Testifies That Effort Is Often Made to Restrain Trade.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

KANSAS CITY, MO., July 13.—The giving of rebates as a common practice to secure business was brought out today in the testimony of A. G. Shires of Marietta, O., traveling salesman for the Penn Refining Company of Oil City, Pa., who was a witness at the hearing in the state's suit to oust the Standard Oil Company, the Republic Oil Company and the Waters Pierce Oil Company from Missouri. Mr. Shires was manager for the Republic Oil Company at St. Joseph, Mo., from November, 1901, to May, 1902, and came to Kansas City in June as assistant manager of the Republic company. He found the Standard and the National the only companies here, he said. He had charge of the tank business for the Republic, the lubricating oil department, and handled gasoline and kerosene for grocers. He was, he said, instructed to sell after the National's customers. Henry Teagle, the manager, Mr. Shires said, told him to get certain of the National's customers and if necessary pay a rebate of one-half a cent a gallon. These rebates were paid in cash to customers. He said he had never tried to get trade from the Standard's customers. The rebate applied only to the National's trade.

Mr. Shires said he was told by Mr. Teagle to say to customers that the Republic Oil company was an independent concern.

"Did you ever, during your whole employment here," inquired Attorney General Hadley, "offer any rebate or any inducement to customers to take their trade from the Standard Oil Company?"

"No, Mr. never."

"Where did you get the information regarding prices to charge for oil?"

"From the Standard Oil Company, always."

"How did you instruct your salesmen to do?"

"To say that the Republic Oil Company was an independent company, handling the Pennsylvania goods; that it had no connection with the Standard Oil Company and was out for the business."

Mr. Shires said that when he was manager at St. Joseph for the Republic Oil Company he once had too much oil on hand and had wired Kansas City for instructions. He was ordered, he said, to transfer the oil to the Standard Oil Company, and he did so. He sometimes used the Standard's horses. There was no competition in St. Joseph or Kansas City between the Republic and the Standard.

Henry D. Wheelan, formerly bookkeeper for the Republic Oil Company, testified that once when the Republic did not have storage room for a shipment of oil orders came from Cleveland to turn the oil over to the Standard Oil Company, which was done.

DESERTING STEAMBOAT CREW LOSES LIBEL AGAINST BOAT

Mate's Cruelty, Involving a Drowning, Is Not Proved to Court's Satisfaction.

BECHDEL CONVICTED AGAIN

The libel in the suit in admiralty of James Barker and others against the steamer Queen City, in which the charge was made that the libellants had been cruelly treated by the mate of the vessel, has been dismissed by Judge Buffington. This case involved the death of a man, who was alleged to have been thrown overboard by an officer.

Judge Buffington says: "The material and disputed allegations in this case is that the libellants, 10 in number, were cruelly treated by the mate of the Queen City. On that ground they justify leaving her at Pittsburgh. We have carefully weighed the proofs and given the case our very thoughtful consideration, for if we were satisfied the men had been wrongfully treated by the mate we would make this case a salutary example. After due consideration, however, we are clear in our belief that the weight of the proofs is with the respondents. We are satisfied these libellants did accept shipping tickets to Cincinnati for an round trip when they shipped, and their statement to the contrary is not true. We are satisfied also that the story told of the conduct of the mate in connection with the drowning of the man at Bellaire is grossly exaggerated and evidenced the clear bias of the libellants.

"The mate was placed under arrest by the West Virginia authorities, who discharged him. Apart from the officers of the boat we have the testimony of a number of deck-hands, who testify to their fair treatment by the mate, and they saw no ill treatment of others.

Evidence Is Improbable.

"The improbability of these libellants' united testimony that the mate constantly carried a stick, which he used on the men whenever a landing was made, will be seen when several deck-hands were called who deny such conduct and their testimony is strongly corroborated by their action in continuing to work on the boat.

"In view of these facts and others that might be cited, we have reluctantly come to the conclusion that the desertion of this boat by the libellants was, as contended by the boat's officers, namely, a plan to work their way north and leave the boat in Pittsburgh. The proofs show that several had made half trip passage north on lower river boats, and when the entire 10 men were called before the court and an offer made to send them to Cincinnati, and thus ensure them against any cruelty, they all refused to go."

B. J. Bechdel was tried and convicted in criminal court before Judge Evans of a misdemeanor. Bechdel was charged by Superintendent of Detectives McQuaide with conducting the National Investment company, incorporated under the laws of Delaware, without first registering the concern with the secretary of state of Pennsylvania, as provided under the law. Bechdel's defense was that he had merely opened offices in order to get ready for business before making the necessary registration. Bechdel was convicted in connection with the Home Development company cases but was granted a new trial and the suits were never disposed of.

Beat Man With a Club.

John Melecok, George Melecok and George Pal, Hungarians, were convicted of felonious assault for beating Mike Gebabo of Cecil with a club and were sentenced to 18 months in the workhouse.

Walter C. Maxwell, formerly secretary and treasurer of the W. C. Maxwell company, an East End grain and feed concern, was convicted of mutilating and falsifying the company's books. Maxwell in another court was charged with a misdemeanor in embezzling $9,000 of the funds of the concern, but was acquitted.

I. Davis sued the city of Pittsburgh, Superintendent of Detectives McQuaide, Detective William Elmore and Property Clerk J. H. Carr for $1,000. He alleges he was driven from the city and not allowed to come here except by stealth, and he says his property was confiscated. Davis says Elmore arrested him illegally and wrongfully as a suspicious person. At Central station, he says, a watch valued at $100 was taken from him and two pieces of gold worth $80. He says he was sent to the workhouse for 30 days and when he was released he says he demanded his property from Elmore, who referred him to McQuaide, but the plaintiff says McQuaide refused to direct his subordinates to return his watch and gold. The plaintiff says he is compelled to bring suit for the value of his property as he says he is too poor to file a bond in replevin.

Appeal to Supreme Court.

The matter of the register of wills retaining state fees for collecting collateral inheritance taxes is to be settled by the supreme court. In a stated case of Allegheny county against Register George H. Stengel, common pleas court No. 3 decided that Stengel was entitled to retain the fees and that the county had no claim on them. Yesterday the county took an appeal to the supreme court which will be heard at the October term.

The report of the arbitrators in the cases of Thomas Harrison and A. Schmidt against the Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing company at Natrona was filed yesterday in common pleas court No. 2. In 1889 several farmers near Natrona filed a bill to restrain the company from operating, claiming their crops and trees were injured by the fumes from the chemicals. The court dismissed the bill and later suits for damages were brought. In 1895 these were tried jointly and the jury disagreed. Then the cases of Harrison and Schmidt were referred to James S. Young, R. B. Scandrett and William Withrow as arbitrators. They took the first testimony in 1901, heard the final arguments in June and filed their report yesterday. They find that the plaintiffs did not suffer any damage and give a verdict for the salt company.

Since the litigation Mr. Harrison, one of the plaintiffs, and M. A. Woodward, an attorney for the company, have died and Mr. Young, one of the arbitrators, has become a judge in common pleas court No. 2. Attorney J. E. McKelvey represented the salt company.

The cases against John and George Robinsteen arising out of charges in connection with the Eleanor Steel Company will not be tried in criminal court until the next term. When the cases were called yesterday a motion was made to quash the indictments charging conspiracy on the ground that they had not been found within two years of the date of the alleged offense. The prosecution argued that the act of 1878 extended the time for prosecutions of officers of corporations to four years in case of misdemeanors.

Contention of the Defense.

The defense held that the act of 1878 was unconstitutional because it did not give the language of four sections of an act of 1860, which it professed to amend, that the extension to four years did not apply to such acts as are alleged in this case and that the Eleanor Steel Company being a New Jersey corporation and that a combination to cheat and defraud a corporation not subject to the jurisdiction of the court and therefore not within the protection of Pennsylvania law, was not indictable. Pending the consideration of the motion by Judge McClung the cases went over until the next term.

Ella Hollycak filed a petition for the custody of her grandson, Thomas Palmer Davis, aged seven, who is now in the custody of his stepmother. The boy's mother died in December, 1902, leaving the boy and a younger sister in the petitioner's care, it is alleged. The petitioner says the boy's father married again and took his son to live with him. On July 3, the father died, it is alleged, and now the lad's stepmother refuses to give him to his grandmother. The court granted a writ of habeas corpus, returnable tomorrow.

An application was filed for a charter for St. John's Slovak Evangelical Lutheran church of Tarentum. Attorney J. Frank Reffer is the solicitor.

Albert C. Case, a New York broker, filed a statement in his suit against the borough of Carnegie to recover a certified check for $1,000, which he deposited with his bid on a $50,000 bond issue. The allegations in the statement are substantially those published at the time the suit was entered by Reed, Smith, Shaw and Beal.

Treaty Is in Dispute.

In the suit of Maria G. R. Maiorano against the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, an action for damages growing out of the wreck of the Duquesne Limited, December 23, 1902, near Connellsville, the railroad company has filed an answer to the plaintiff's rule for a bill of particulars of its defense. The defendant denies that Carmine Maiorano was the plaintiff's husband, or that he was a passenger on the train or that the accident was the result of carelessness on the part of the road's employes. It is denied that under the treaty between Italy and the United States of 1871, she is entitled to recover. The existence of the treaty, the plaintiff refers to in her statement, is denied and the defendant avers that she and her alleged husband were aliens and not residents of the United States or of the state of Pennsylvania, and therefore she is not entitled to recover.

Philip and D. P. Osterling, trading as the Columbia Stone Company, sued William Miller & Sons Company for $32,000 on a contract which they allege they made with the defendant company, for delivering stone for the Carnegie institute extension.

On petition of Mary N. Golden a rule was granted to William A. Golden to show cause why she should not be given custody of their four children. The latter have been placed in a home for boys by the father.

Under an order issued by Judge Buffington, David Taft, charged with counterfeiting, and John Wilson, Jr., Lloyd C. Van Fleet and James J. O'Connor, charged with raising postal money orders, will be taken to Erie for trial at the session of the United States district court to be held in that city. The prisoners have been in the Allegheny county jail.

An aplication for a charter has been filed by the Beechview Methodist Episcopal church. Attorney John A. Metz is the solicitor.

In the case of Robert J. Saltsman against the Pittsburgh Coal Company, Judge Buffington made an order that in case the parties canot agree on an order regulating the times and places for the production of books, papers, etc., an order be prepared appointing the clerk a special committee to take charge of the same.

TOO GOOD FOR HOPS.

Comedy Melodrama Involving a David Harum Horse Trade Gets Into Criminal Court.

A horse deal with David Harum trimmings, which finally resulted in a law suit, took up nearly two hours of Judge McClung's time in criminal court. George Fuchs, a German dairyman in Spring Garden borough, was the defendant and Mrs. Margaret Kelly of Almond alley, Lawrenceville, the prosecutor. Mrs. Kelly had purchased a horse from Fuchs for $20 on his representations that it was sound of wind and limb, but that the animal faded away and died after being in her possession five days. Mrs. Kelly, claiming the horse had been "doped" before the sale, entered suit against Fuchs for false pretense.

Fuchs on the witness stand testified he had "bought the horse from a farm boy for $2, and that it was a fine horse." The horse, he said, was so fine that instead of feeding it as he did his own on "brewery hops," he gave it oats and hay.

One witness said he had seen the horse after it was in Mrs. Kelly's possession "being fed" on a bucket of cobblestones with a few oats sprinkled on top." A boy who had visited the stable where the horse had been placed by Mrs. Kelly said he had "held the horse's head across a telegraph pole while Mrs. Kelly's boy had poured a gallon of oil down its throat because the poor horse was sick." The boy concluded by stating that the horse was found dead the next morning.

The jurors, who with the judge and attorneys, were convulsed with laughter during the trial of the case, had not returned a verdict when court adjourned.

RESERVOIR CASE ENDS.

Attorneys Finish Arguments in the Suit to Recover Money Claimed on the Contract.

The arguments by counsel in the case of Jonathan Clarke's Sons Company against the city of Pittsburgh to recover the balance claimed on a contract for the construction of Highland reservoir No. 2 were finished before Judge Acheson in the United States circuit court.

Assistant City Solicitor W. W. Smith made the argument for the city, while Capt. E. Y. Breck spoke for the plaintiffs.

Attorney Smith occupied almost the entire morning with his argument. He asserted the court was asked to set the amount of damages that might be found in the case without the plaintiffs furnishing figures on which such a sum might be computed, and therefore, he contended, the court had been put into an embarrassing position. He said the reservoir had never been accepted by the city, although the supply it contained was used to help in furnishing the city with water, and, according to the evidence, it leaked a million gallons a day. He laid stress on the fact that the judgment of the director of public works, E. M. Bigelow, according to the contract, was to be the deciding factor on certain points of the work.

Attorney Breck took up the argument for the plaintiffs at the opening of the afternoon session of court. He said the record could be searched without finding a word of complaint from Director Bigelow or anyone else for the work during the year 1899. Attorney Breck said the payment for the work was to be made on approximate estimates made each month. The last estimate, he said, was made in December, 1898, and in April, 1899, the city owed the plaintiffs for 19,080 yards of excavation for work done from the previous December. The plaintiffs wrote for estimates, but they were not sent them by Director Bigelow. They were also hampered in other ways by the city.

Attorney Breck said that Clark used every inducement to have Director Bigelow go with him and inspect the work, but that he never could get the director to go, although he repeatedly promised to visit the work. This improvement cost the city over $700,000, but Director Bigelow never went there in person to see how the work was being done. On the stand Director Bigelow said he saw it from horseback in Highland park. Everything, said Attorney Breck, was done to hamper the work. Their estimates were always short, and the city kept holding their money back.

In replying to Attorney Breck, Assistant Solicitor Smith said the plaintiffs had not pushed the work on, and for some reason the job was evidently too big for them, as they had to abandon it.

The court took the papers.

Boulevard Case Adjourned.

W. L. Mellon was among the witnesses yesterday in the Shuff case involving the use of the Grant boulevard. The session was a brief one, the hearing being adjourned until July 24. It is said that all the witnesses who are available at this time have been heard at the star chamber sessions.

BAPTISM OF AN INCUBATOR BABY

Raymond Plohem was baptized by the Rev. Father Myles Sweeney of Epiphany Roman Catholic parish in the reception room of the infant incubator hospital in Luna Park yesterday. The candidate for admission to the church was a tiny infant, who, having spent 11 weeks in one of the incubators at the hospital, was brought forth from its glass home yesterday morning and introduced for the first time to its delighted mother. The child is the son of George Plohem and his wife, Annie, and was born in Chicago. Miss Marie Blanchard, one of the nurses at the hospital, who subscribes to the Catholic faith, acted as godmother, and Tunis F. Dean, Mr. Ingersoll's personal representative at Luna Park, took the vows of godfather. After the ceremony the child was returned to its glass case.

Doings at Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 13.—(Special)—In the absence of the governor of South Carolina, the governor of North Carolina took to water today. At the head of a party of a dozen southern people who are here with him and Mrs. Glenn, Governor Glenn donned a bathing suit at noon today and democratically joined the big crowd of bathers at the foot of Pennsylvania avenue, tumbling about in the breakers with all the abandon of a boy. Life guards in the vicinity kept a close watch on the distinguished party, never relaxing their vigilance until the governor had left the beach for his bath-house. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Glenn, Miss Rebecca Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Jordan, Miss Wadsworth, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Miller, Jr., of Charlotte, N. C., and H. Maslin of Greenville. Miss Maslin, Miss Kirland, Miss Austin, Miss Marguerite Crow and Miss Elizabeth Crew, a bevy of charming misses from Raleigh.

Combination of the first full moon of the season and a pretty girl cost E. V. Smith, a young Pittsburgh banker, a fine new $50 Panama hat last night. The young couple, both of whom are guests at the Grand Atlantic, left the hotel early in the evening and strolled out on one of the big piers, where the young man had aside his hat to more fully enjoy the moonlight. A gentle breeze came along at a very interesting point in the conversation and lifted the hat over the rail unnoticed. Fellow-guests at the hotel state that a flimsy lace handkerchief appeared to be doing very satisfactory duty as a head covering when the pair returned to the hotel, and early strollers aver that the young man was out at the peep of day searching the beach for the lost hat, for which a substantial reward has since been offered.

Beach Surgeon Beckwith established a precedent for his own today, when he refused to accept the custody of a handful of diamond rings proffered by two dashing young women who insisted that the head of the beach force care for jewels while the owners took their dips. "We are expected to care for everything from diamonds to babies," said the disgusted official. "Our business is to protect bathers, and we cannot act as safe deposit vaults of day nurses."

Phil Lewis, a well-known young Pittsburgher, joined his mother, Mrs. David Lewis, who is at the Albemarle with her daughter, Miss M. A. Lewis. Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Rogers of Franklin arrived tonight to visit Mrs. Rogers' sister, Mrs. Moorhead of Pittsburgh, who is spending the month at the Albemarle. P. A. Wiseman and James A. Hobson, members of prominent Pittsburgh clubs, were noted among the bathers today. Mr. and Mrs. Warren J. Seymour have joined the Pittsburgh colony at the shore and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lang are here with Mrs. Lang's mother, Mrs. James Sweeney. Mrs. G. L. Cramer of Wheeling is with her daughter, Mrs. H. C. Caldwell of Pittsburgh, at the Fredonia. One of the most attractive of the lately arrived brides is Mrs. George W. Weitershausen, who was Miss May Eyles of Pittsburgh. Mrs. Weitershausen and her husband are spending their honeymoon at the Howard.

Takes Overdose of Laudanum.

John Boland, a foreman employed at Highland park, and residing at 6401 Apple Avenue, East End, took an overdose of laudanum last night. He had been taking the drug as a medicine. Dr. W. H. Robinson was called in and succeeded in reviving him.

SOCIETY

FEARFUL of a sudden downpour of rain, the United Presbyterian women yesterday took no chances with the weather man. Instead of serving the supper on the lawn as in previous years, they wisely placed the long tables in the dining-room, which is in the basement of the new wing to the Home for the Aged in Penn and Trenton avenues, Wilkinsburg. Seventeen long tables reached from one end of the room to the other; the fresh white walls making an attractive setting, while the tables themselves were decorated with field flowers and garden roses.

Everyone was pleased with the new dining-room, the workmen having succeeded in finishing it in time for the annual lawn fete of the United Presbyterian Womens' association. Because of the extensive building operations on the grounds, which include the new Columbia hospital and the wing to the Home for the Aged, the entertainment, which is an annual affair for the benefit of these two institutions and the United Presbyterian Orphans' Home, was postponed for a month. During the afternoon there was a large attendance which was increased at the supper hour, while during the evening the house and porches were crowded and the booths which lined the driveway and the walks were generously patronized.

The booths were erected beneath the great trees which shade the place and were grouped almost directly in front of the main entrance. They were fashioned and decorated with bunting. It was an unusually pretty garden party, and the prevalence of white was most noticeable, while being worn almost exclusively by the women and girls who presided over the booths and by their customers, trim white skirts, beneath which appeared the white-shod feet, long white coats revealing glimpses of exquisite white waists, and the whole topped by large white hats of the wash variety or of more perishable chiffon and lace. There was music during the afternoon and evening—the concerts being enjoyed by the visitors and by their white capped residents in the home, who sat upon the wide porches and met the visitors as they thronged through the house and over the grounds. Much admiration was expressed at the appearance of the new Columbia Hospital, but it was closed to visitors. The managers hope to have a house warming in September. Meanwhile work is progressing slowly on the wing to the Home for the Aged, which will greatly increase its capacity, the new wing conforming in general appearance to the one which was built several years ago on the Trenton avenue side of the main building.

Music at Country Club.

Thursday evenings this season, as in other years, are designated as music nights at the Country club house in Squirrel Hill. Last night the American Military band played during the dinner hour and later in the evening, and will do so on each Thursday evening during the summer season. Because so many Pittsburgh families are out of the city for July and August there are few women to be seen in the dining-room and on the broad verandas of the Country club and the informal dinner parties last night were composed almost entirely of men who are kept in town by their business and professional duties.

Picnic at Rock Point.

A large party of Baptist Sunday school children and their parents and friends went to Rock Point yesterday. The party was composed of the Sunday schools of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church, the Shady avenue, the Sandusky street, Allegheny, the Oakland and the Lorenz avenue, Elliot.

Furnishing the Sanctuary.

As the new St. Paul's cathedral, in Fifth avenue, Oakland, is being pushed to completion the Women's Sanctuary society is putting forth great efforts to raise the money to erect the main altar and furnish the sanctuary. A letter was sent several months ago to every Catholic woman in the Pittsburgh diocese, whether they were members of other parishes or belonged only to the cathedral, and every woman is expected to make some contribution to the fund required, which amounts to $50,000. A very large portion of the amount has already been paid in and much of the rest promised, and the women hope to have secured the entire amount by November, when Bishop Canevin expects the cathedral will be finished.

The interior work is well along and soon the altars can be erected. They will include the main altar, composed of beautiful white Italian marble, which will be the gift of the women of the diocese, and five smaller altars, each of them the gift of individuals. Among the donors are Mr and Mrs. John C. Reilly, while the other altars have all been promised. The smaller altars will also be of the white Italian marble and of beautiful design.

The furnishing of the sanctuary is to be very rich, not only in the materials used and the articles of service, but in the vestments worn, most of which will be imported from Paris and Germany. They will include the sheerest linen with exquisite convent work and almost priceless lace. It is the intention of the bishop and the women of the Sanctuary society to make the sanctuary and all its furnishings of unusual richness and elaborate finish. The interior of St. Paul's cathedral will be made so appropriate and splendid that it will rank among the greatest church buildings of the period.

The names of the contributors to the fund of the Women's Sanctuary society will be placed in a book to be deposited within the main altar of the cathedral to remain there as long as the altar stands. A large number of women have contributed $100 each and a few have given larger amounts, while throughout the diocese women are contributing to a popular subscription, which will become more general as the time for the completion of the cathedral draws near. The organization of the Women's Sanctuary society was one of the original methods chosen by Bishop Canevin in order that the cathedral may be consecrated as soon as it is completed, which a few expect will be as early as October. Bishop Canevin has secured a number of larger donations which will be used for special purposes in the interior of the building. The cathedral cannot be consecrated until it is out of debt.

Among the women who have been interested in the work of the Sanctuary society, some of them being collectors for the fund, are Mrs. John C. Reilly, Mrs. James J. Flannery, Mrs. William Loeffler, Mrs. Haines Allen Machesney, Mrs. L. Vilsack, Mrs. James McCloskey, Mrs. Joseph Daschbach, Mrs. M. E. Pollard, Miss Mary Dougherty and Mrs. L. M. Plumer.

Children Gather Daisies.

The girls and boys of West Pittsburgh turned out yesterday afternoon and evening and gathered bushels and bushels of daisies to be sent to the summer playgrounds and vacation schools this morning. The fields in that section of the city and beyond the city limits were covered with flowers yesterday morning, but after the children had wandered over them, picking great handsful of the flowers the field did not look quite so white. The daisies will be sent this morning to the Central Young Women's Christian Association building in Fifth street, where they will be made into small bouquets. The work of the flower committee has been systematized by the chairman, Mrs. Minnie Ogrey Roberts, who has appointed Mrs. William A. Zahn to receive the flowers, which will be given to the playgrounds by the people of Crafton. Mrs. Franklin P. Iams and Miss Lottie McConnell have been appointed chairmen for the district embraced in Sheridan. Mrs. Wallis J. Tener will take charge of the flowers coming from Sewickley. The response for flowers has been most generous throughout the city and the East End, where private conservatories and private gardens will be gone over carefully. Flowers will be contributed from the Phipps conservatory in Schenley park, the florists have also consented to give flowers, while a small fund has been secured by Mrs. Roberts with which to purchase flowers should the supply run short. However, if there be more flowers than are needed in the playgrounds they will be taken by the members of the committee up to Herron Hill, where they will be distributed among the children on Wylie and Webster avenues and in the crowded tenement districts of that section of the city.

STOCKS REACTED SHARPLY, CLOSING NEAR THE LOWEST

St. Paul, Northwest and Pennsylvania the Only Prominent Stocks to Hold Their Own—Regular Dividend for Fire Proofing Pref.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

For a few minutes after the opening of the New York stock market yesterday it looked as if the bull movement would make general progress and that the dealings would reach the million shars a day rate. Everything opened strong and higher in response to the advance shown in London's quotations and the liberal buying for foreign account. Heavy profittaking ensued, and with the exception of the special strength displayed in spots, the market sold off. Late in the day the reaction became pronounced and the close was weak, generally at the lowest prices. Exceptions to the general tendency were St. Paul, Northwest and Pennsylvania, which closed higher.

There was very little news to influence the market during the early part of the session, but the further sharp decline in wheat encouraged the bulls on the granger stocks and these held strong while the rest of the list was declining. St. Paul was the most conspicuous feature and rallied from 178½ to 182½, closing with a gain of 2½ per cent. Northern Pacific also made a new high record on this movement, selling at 203, but it subsequently lost all the gain and closed at 198, a loss of 2 per cent. There was a story that the Union Pacific had sold its holdings of Northern Pacific received in the distribution of the assets of Northern Securities to J. J. Hill, and this was the basis for the predictions of an increase in the regular semi-annual rate on Union Pacific or the declaration of an extra dividend. Union Pacific advanced to 130¾, but early in the afternoon broke to 128½ on the announcement that the directors had last but taken no action on the dividend, owing to the absence of a quorum. This selling of Union Pacific started the reaction in the remainder of the market, from which it did not recover.

Baltimore & Ohio, after opening a fraction higher at 115¼, sold off to 114½ and closed at the lowest, indicating that the increase in the dividend had been discounted for the time being at least. Reading declined a point from the opening, but closed unchanged for the day. Pennsylvania closed ½ higher.

The traction stocks were heavy and closed at or near the lowest prices of the day. For reasons that are well understood, this group of stocks responds very readily to any fresh developments in the affairs of the Equitable Life.

In the industrial list Amalgamated Copper had the benefit of an advance of an ⅛ of a cent a pound in the price of the metal, but this was effective for only a brief period on the stock, which closed at a decline of a small fraction. Tennessee Coal and Iron broke from 89 to 85¾ and closed at a net loss of 2¼ per cent. United States Steel common closed ½ and the preferred ⅝ lower.

Call money loaned at 2 per cent and closed offered at 2¼ per cent. Between $13,000,000 and $15,000,000 will be paid over to the treasury department on Saturday, representing the return of government deposits. These payments, as a rule, will be made by the New York banks, both for themselves and in the shape of drafts drawn on them by their correspondents, but the only effect of this operation, so far, has been a slightly firmer tone to time money.

The weekly reports of the foreign government banks reflected the rapid settlement of half-yearly accounts. The loans of the Bank of England decreased nearly $37,000,000, and the percentage of reserve to liability rose to 48.66, against 42.65 last week. Loans of the Bank of France decreased about $6,100,000 and gold in hand increased $2,530,000.

In the local stock market business fell off one-half as compared with Wednesday, and prices were irregular. The strongest stock was American Sewer Pipe, which on one transaction jumped 2½ per cent to 87, and closed at 86¾ bid. Pittsburgh Plate Glass rallied 1 per cent to 120, and Luster Mining advanced a dollar a share to 24. Independent Brewing common, Pittsburgh Brewing preferred and Manufacturers Light and Heat closed fractionally higher. Pittsburgh Coal common made a new low price, selling at 13. The preferred was a shade firmer at 56½ to 57. The Steel stocks and Westinghouse Air Brake closed lower, but were very dull. There were no transactions in Westinghouse Electric. Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Connellsville 5s advanced ¼ per cent to 102¾.

WANT OPTIONS ON HERRON HILL LOTS

Property Owners Are Speculating on Real Estate Movement Near Schenley Farm.

NORTH SIDE HOTEL SCHEME

Considerable speculation has been aroused the last few days by reports which have come from owners along Aliquippa and nearby streets relative to options which it is said have been sought lately in that vicinity. M. P. Howley & Sons have been the agents seeking the options so far as can be learned, but thus far none have been secured. One report was that the options were being sought for the Schenley Farms Company, but this was emphatically denied last night by O. F. Nicola, who said:

"The Schenley Farms Company has authorized no one to get any options in that vicinity."

The properties mentioned in the report comprise about 800 feet of frontage in Aliquippa street overlooking the Schenley farm. About 200 feet of this frontage is owned by Thomas N. Dunn, Samuel B. Charters, Frank Fraess and Harvey Wilson, each of which has a modern brick house of eight or ten rooms on his lot. The remaining 200 feet is owned by the Rev. Prugh. M. P. Howley & Son own about 400 feet in Avalon street parallel with Center avenue, which is said to be worth about $80 a foot. There are also eight good brick houses facing in Center avenue which are worth some $6,000 each, and eight smaller houses in Breckinridge avenue. Part of this property belongs to Fred Stoeltzing. It is said that within the last two weeks agents have made repeated attempts to option nearly all of these properties. All the lots are near the summit of Herron Hill, and it is rumored that this land would be graded down to a level of Center avenue if it could be secured, but whether for residence lots or a site for some large institution could not be learned.

Unique Hotel for North Side.

John B. Schlosser, who now is managing a cosy family hotel in the old Roseburg homestead in Bellevue, which was recently sold for $147,000, is getting ready to build a family hotel that will be a decided novelty for that exclusive section. With E. M. Butz and others Mr. Schlosser will build a large two-story hotel that will be decidedly unique in its architecture and the only hostelry of its kind around the city. The building will be planned exclusively for the use of small families who wish a place in the suburbs where they can have convenient and exclusive quarters, fresh air and good boarding accommodations. It will contain 40 rooms divided into suites of two rooms each, which will have a private bath, hall, porch and alcove. Spacious porches will run around the entire building and large parlors and a dining room are planned for the first floor. The chief attraction of the place will be that the hotel will stand in the midst of four or five acres of ground, where a tennis court, croquet grounds and other outdoor sports will be arranged for. Two suites are now under consideration and a deal for one of them is likely to be closed within a week. Mr. Schlosser has a lease until January on the Roseburg mansion, but as the purchasers of that property expect to develop it soon he may leave before that date.

The fact that the National Biscuit Company moved its stables, formerly at Sixteenth street and Liberty avenue, to First avenue and Grant street one month ago gave rise to the report yesterday that the company had bought the latter property from C. H. McKeana. This is not the case. The biscuit company has only taken over the remainder of the five years' lease which A. A. Adler, the horse dealer, had on the Grant street corner. The lease still has four years to run and when the National got it the company agreed to pay for the improvements which it has been making at a cost of about $5,600. Mr. McKenna said yesterday that the lot, which is improved with a substantial three-story brick building, is not for sale.

Getting Site for Board of Trade.

The Oakland board of trade is preparing to erect a fine building for its own use in Oakland avenue. Negotiations have been practically concluded for the option of the Clay property, 50x200 feet, running through from Oakland avenue to Atwood street, near Forbes street. The property is handled by the Commonwealth Real Estate Company, and is owned by two or more heirs, one of whom has already signed an option for $30,000. Two nine-room brick houses stand on the Atwood end of the lot, and are well rented. The Oakland avenue end is vacant, and it is here that the board of trade plans to erect a four-story brick and stone building, to cost at least $35,000. If the present deal goes through, the building will be started, it is said, this fall.

The first floor will be used for storerooms and the upper floors will be fitted up for a fine trade home.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company is making rapid work in taking over the property needed for its extensions in East Liberty. The workmen have already encroached upon the holdings of C. Strahley & Sons, just east of the railroad bridge over Penn avenue. The railroad will need a triangular strip of this property 24 feet wide in the rear and 196 feet long, which will distract greatly from the value of the Strahley plot as a whole. The property has not been condemned, but the railroad agents have signed an agreement of some sort that will obviate the need of long condemnation proceedings. Several times it has been reported that the Strahley holdings were sold to the Pennsylvania, but no deal has ever been effected before this one. It is said that the railroad company has secured all the property in the rear of this plot that it needs, and that no more purchases will be made at present in the vicinity.

Apartment Houses Brings $42,000.

Through the Kelly-Wood Real Estate Company Franklin C. Hodkinson has bought from James L. George a three-story brick apartment house on the south side of Mellon street, near Jackson street, Nineteenth ward, for $42,000. The building contains six apartments of six rooms and bath each, and stands on a lot 32x110 feet. It is well rented and was taken for an investment.

Through the office of Coyle Brothers A. L. Richmond, Jr., has bought from Catherine J. Gerrard a three-story brick apartment house in Rossiln street, Swissvale. The building contains three six-room flats, and was bought for $10,000 for an investment.

Robert P. Lougeay, Jr., has sold to Jerome B. Schaub an improved property, 50x165 feet, on the north side of Bennett street, near Murray avenue, Twenty-second ward, for $15,500.

Eugene L. Messler has secured title to the property of Frederic G. Kay, 200x120 feet, on the north side of Forbes street, near Murdoch street, Twenty-second ward, which he articled for several weeks ago. The exact price was $34,200.

It is reported on good authority that the deal for the H. G. Moore holdings at the corner of Penn avenue and Twelfth street, which were reported sold yesterday for $40,000, has progressed only so far as an option. The sum of $100 has been paid for the latter, it is said, and a sale may result this week.

Buys Site for Summer Home.

Ingram—The Real Estate Corporation sold for John B. Fitzgibbons to Mrs. E. V. Mutherson 7.5 acres of land facing in the Perrysville road at Ingram for $5,500. The purchaser bought the property for a country home and will improve the site with an $8,000 residence.

Virginia avenue—Fred W. Mertin sold to William J. Love an improved lot, 25x165 feet on the south side of Virginia avenue, Thirty-second ward, for $7,000.

Allen avenue—Peter M. Siegar sold to James D. Taylor an improved lot, 25x96 feet, on the east side of Allen avenue, near Eureka street, Thirty-first ward, for $3,500.

Melbourne street—Matthew J. Donaldson sold to Edward E. McConnell an improved lot, 20x80 feet, on the north side of Melbourne street, near Frank street, Twenty-third ward, for $3,000.

Lincoln avenue—Alexander McCutcheon sold to Oscar H. Fritsch an improved lot, 35x124 feet, on the east side of Lincoln avenue, near Lytle avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $3,800.

The following building permits were issued yesterday: Mrs. A. McIntosh, Linden avenue, one two-story brick veneered dwelling, to cost $8,500; a permit was also granted to the Fidelity Title and Trust Company to make repairs on its banking building to cost $10,000. The repairs will consist of a rearrangement of the banking room, new tile floors, counters, entrance doors, elevators to the third floor, a change of the partition on upper floors and other minor changes.

COKE PRODUCTION IS OFF OWING TO A HOLIDAY

Connellsville Shipments for Past Week. Orders Show Consumers Waiting for Price Reduction.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., July 13.—Coke production and shipments fell off last week owing to the holiday on the Fourth. The shipments of 372,662 tons fell below the production. Orders are slow, many consumers waiting, apparently, for a reduction in price. The operators show no desire to boom business by price cutting. A summary of the Connellsville region for the week ending July 8 shows a total of 22,833 ovens, with 20,525 in operation.

The week's production amounted to 230,869 tons, 15,780 tons less than the previous week. The shipments aggregated 9,617 cars, as follows: Pittsburgh and river points, 2,650 cars; points west of Pittsburgh, 4,850 cars; points east of Everson, 1,118 cars. The shipments amounted to 224,206 tons, a decrease of 25,063 tons from the week previous.

The Masontown shipments aggregated 1,814 cars, as follows: Pittsburgh and river points, 183 cars; points west of Pittsburgh, 1,511 cars; points east of Everson, 110 cars. These shipments are estimated at 47,576 tons, being 10,921 tons less than last report.

SUGAR SUFFERS A NEW REDUCTION IN PRICE

Another Cut of Ten Points Is Registered in the Height of the Fruit Season.

Business was only fair in the local markets yesterday forenoon, but improved considerably in the afternoon. Today is expected to prove an unusually big day, as out-of-town buyers will be in the city.

The feature of the day was a further cut of 10 points in sugars, the price of granulated now being down to $4.90. The sugar business has received a serious black eye by the downward tendency of the market, as buyers are holding off. The flour market continues in the same condition, with plenty of shading going on.

Butter, eggs and produce showed no material changes yesterday. Fresh selected eggs are selling readily at 15c. Eggs at mark are going at 11c and even lower. Real good eggs are scarce and a premium is being paid for them by some of the big hotels and restaurants.

Green goods had a fair day's business, with no material shifts in prices. Today is expected to be a big day and there may be numerous changes. Tomatoes are growing cheaper and several lines show a tendency to break down.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania, 20 cars oats, 11 cars hay, 4 cars feed. Baltimore & Ohio, 3 cars hay, 1 car oats. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 1 car hay, 1 car oats, 1 car feed.

The market continues strong, with a tendency toward higher prices. Receipts are short, which helps strengthen the figures. Still better prices are looked for, as dealers do not believe the top has been reached.

LOVED DOLLARS MORE THAN WIFE

Noted Turfman Sues for Divorce and Names New Yorker as Home Breaker.

RESULT OF SECRET MARRIAGE

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

LEXINGTON, KY., July 14.—Mrs. Annie Louise Megrue Madden, whose husband, John E. Madden, the noted turfman, in his petition for divorce filed in circuit court here this week charges her with being unduly intimate with the noted New York broker and financier, L. V. Bell, is one of the handsomest young women in the "Bluegrass State." She is a native of Ohio, where her father, Joseph R. Megrue, years ago made a fortune as a brewery broker. She married the turf wizard in June, 1900, and kept the marriage a secret until the following January.

In his petition Madden gives a memorandum of the money he advanced her after their marriage and until the time she commenced to live with him. At Hamburg Place, in this county, the Madden home, Mrs. Madden reigned supreme. She kept the bank-books, paid out the money with her own personal check and had complete charge of the turfman's finances. While he was in the east she entertained as she pleased, went where she pleased and people thought she was the "luckiest woman in America."

The filing of a petition for divorce, which she first did in Cincinnati, was a genuine sensation. Madden proved that she had no legal residence in Ohio and the divorce claim was dropped, the petition being amended to a plea for alimony. She wanted $125,000, but Madden would not give it.

Madden began his business career without a dollar and now has close to a million. Some people say he is money mad and that he neglected his wife for the dollars. It develops that she used her own pleasure as to going with him or remaining at home, and that nothing she desired was denied her. Why she should leave such an elegant home is puzzling the people here.

Bell recently in New York disowned the woman he had been for 12 years introducing as his wife, and she brought suit for a large sum, claiming she was his common law wife. Bell was an enemy of Madden and Madden in his petition claims that Mrs. Madden continued to receive Bell's attentions after she was fully aware of Madden's hatred of Bell.

Last Nights of "Johnny."

The revival of "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" with its new version by the Carleton opera company at the Nixon has proved a potent attraction. Only four performances remain, as the company bids an revoir to Pittsburgh on Saturday night next. This evening the newsboys of Pittsburgh have been invited to attend in a body and will occupy the gallery, which they will sing with W. F. Carleton, "My Own United States." A special feature of interest will be added to the program on Saturday night, and the entire company at the termination of the performance will sing "Auld Lang Syne." The nightly appearance of the Pittsburgh Academy cadets, who appear in the finales of the opera is a great success, as their martial bearing has all the qualities of the veteran.

Unclean Houses Must Go.

Alderman David McKelvey of Allegheny, yesterday fined Peter Clinty, Eva Bonanicy, John Ure, Nich Sablyiak, John Morris and Mike Gasponlek, all of Woods Run. They were charged by Tenement House Inspectors Pannier and Markey with maintaining over-crowded and unsanitary houses. All are landlords and were warned that further infraction of the health laws would result in more severe punishment.

Mrs. John E. Madden.

WINGERSON PROVES HE IS AN HONEST MAN

Alleghenian Finds a Purse Containing $560 and Turns It Over to the Police.

If John Marron, or anyone who is familiar with conditions in Allegheny, is in doubt as to the existence of an honest man on the North Side he should look up Fred W. Wingerson, who lives at 1328 Lake street.

Wingerson saw in the papers yesterday an advertisement for a pocketbook that had been lost in the Allegheny Diamond on Wednesday afternoon. M. B. Griffith, a New York man, who is stopping at the Hotel Henry, lost the wallet, containing $580 in bills. At the advice of Acting Superintendent John Glenn, Mr. Griffith offered a liberal reward for the return of the purse. Wingerson walked into Glenn's office yesterday afternoon and handed over the big roll, saying he had found it in front of the postoffice.

Mr. Griffith happened in just at this time and after thanking Wingerson handed him two $50 bills. Wingerson, who is a driver in modest circumstances, had his wife with him.

"Why don't you split with your wife?" asked Glenn, and Wingerson turned over one of the fifties to his spouse. The couple left the hall elated over their good fortune, and Mr. Griffith remarked that it was only one person in a thousand who would return a lump of money that size after finding it in the street.

FEWER DIE BY VIOLENCE.

Report of First Six Months of Coroner's Administration Shows a Decrease of 279.

Violent deaths reported to the coroner's office during the first six months of Coroner Armstrong's administration have decreased 279 against the number reported during the same period in 1904. In the latter year 181 deaths resulted from the Harwick mine disaster, but leaving this number out of the list, the deaths so far this year are 98 less than for the corresponding period of 1904.

Railroad accidents lead with 145 deaths. Heart disease claimed 123, suicides numbered 81, falls killed 76, mill accidents 62, burns 52, spasms 50 and traction accidents 33. Pneumonia caused 22 deaths, apoplexy 17, while 16 people were murdered. Twelve persons died of consumption, 11 were asphyxiated, 12 lost their lives in the mines, 10 by paralysis. Alcoholism killed 5, explosions 6, elevator accidents 4, heat exhaustion 3, legally executed 3, struck by lightning 3, poison taken by mistake 6.

Nothing But Light Reports from fields in the Lower Southwest

Light reports were received from the lower southwest fields. A number of wells in the deep sand districts are drilling in the sand, but are not deep enough to show conclusively what the result will be. The locations are such as to lead to the belief that they will not be better than light producers.

In the Smithfield district, Wetzel county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its second test on the Samuel Cummings farm 20 feet into the Big Injun and has no show of oil or gas. In the Littleton district, same county, the South Penn Oil Company's No. 10 on the S. Newman farm is holding up at 150 barrels a day since it was given a shot. In the same district the Hums company shot its No. 1 on the George Soles farm and it produced 20 barrels the ensuing 24 hours.

In the Fairview district, Marion county, the South Penn company has drilled its No. 2 on the R. E. Tennant farm through the fourth sand and has a 25-barrel producer. In the Salem district, Harrison county, the South Penn company has completed and put to pumping from the Gordon its No. 1 on the Jemima Sandy farm and No. 4 on the Andrew Spindle farm. The first is producing 15 and the last named 10 barrels a day.

In the Bonds Creek district, Ritchie county, S. S. Bryan & Co. have drilled their No. 7 on the DeLong heirs' farm through the Keener and will have a 5-barrel pumper. In the Wick pool, in Meade district, Tyler county, the gauges of the best producers are as follows:

Carter Oil Company No. 2 G. W. Snodgrass, No. 4 H. C. Watson, No. 2 Charles Eberhart and No. 2 Mathias Messer, 85, 205, 55 and 75 barrels, respectively; Melrose Oil and Gas Company, No. 8 T. H. Ewell, 60 barrels, and Ellsworth, Davis & Trees, No. 4 B. L. Bullman, 50 barrels. No other wells in the district has a production of 50 or more barrels a day.

In the Welcburg district, Brooke county, Brune & Co. have completed a test on the Nancy Burns farm and have a show for a 10 or 15-barrel pumper in the Berea grit.

Light wells are the rule on the Ohio side and all located inside of defined limits. In the Jackson Ridge district, Monroe county, the Pure Oil Company has completed its No. 9 on the Michael Wool farm and has a show for a 5-barrel pumper in the Keener sand. At New Matamoras, same county, the Long Bottom Oil Company has completed a test on the E. C. Chambers farm and has a 5-barrel pumper in the Keener. In the Wolf Creek district the Tecumseh Oil and Gas Company's No. 19 on the Ruth A. Chapman farm has declined to 50 barrels a day. In the Marietta district the Crescent Producing Company has drilled its No. 27 on the John Berg farm through the salt sand and has a duster.

In the Mt. Morris district, Greene county, the Murdock-Baldwin Oil Company has completed its No. 13 on the Daniel Garrison farm and has a gasser. In the same district the Citizens Oil and Gas Company is drilling a test on the Calvin Barber farm. The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company is dug in the sand at a test on the Peter Yeager farm. In the Fonner district the Philadelphia Company is drilling a test on the D. Jones farm and Tim Ross & Co. are building the rig for a test on the Grimes farm.

PACKETS ONLY ARE RUNNING.

Coal Companies Getting Up Few Empty Barges to the Docks.

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 7.1 feet and the river was stationary.

Only the packets are running now. The coal companies are getting up some empty barges and there are great fleets of them in the lower river on their way to Pittsburgh, but unless higher water comes they will be unable to get in. The Dave Wood got up yesterday with a lot of badly battered boats and one of them sank at the landing at the south side of the Smithfield street bridge. They were through the great ice break last winter at Cincinnati. They are being taken to the docks and repaired for the next run.

The Ben Hur, from Parkersburg, and the C. Woodward from Morgantown, were the only packets in yesterday. Both went out with good trips, the Woodward being loaded with miscellaneous freight, among it a carload of watermelons for upriver merchants.

The Charley Brown broke her rudder stock at Middleport and laid up for repairs.

The Greenland, from Charleston, and the Loresa from Zanesville, will be the packets in today.

HAS EXCITING CHASE.

Allegheny Man Suspected of Assaulting Woman Escapes Across River.

John Lanniban, a foreman in the McKees Rocks plant of the Pressed steel car works, was chased by an angry mob in Scheenville yesterday morning and only escaped by getting into a skiff in the Ohio river and rowing to Allegheny. He was arrested later by Detective Philip McDonagh, but was released shortly afterward.

Lanniban found a woman lying unconscious on the sidewalk in Scheenville and was stooping over her when several boys approached and accused him of assaulting her. He was unable to make them understand and as they showed a disposition to use him roughly he took to his heels. A large crowd followed. It came out later that the woman had been struck on the head by an empty beer keg that was thrown from a house she was passing. She is not seriously injured.

OIL EXPLOSIONS INJURE THREE AND DAMAGE HOUSES

Three persons were injured and two houses damaged by oil explosions yesterday. Mrs. James Strang of 308 Federal street, Allegheny, placed a gallon of gasoline on the floor and her two-year-old son dropped a lighted match into the can. The boy and his mother were severely burned and the house was set on fire, causing $200 damage. John Yeska, aged 5, of 9 Roseclusko alley, South Side, while alone in the kitchen poured oil on the stove and caused an explosion in which he was badly burned and the house slightly damaged.

MANY WATCHING ELECTRIC TRAINS

Long Island's Suburban Service Creates Interest—May Revolutionize Methods.

W. W. ATTERBURY IS IN TOWN

Not a little interest is being manifested by railroad men in the establishment of electric motive power for the suburban passenger train service on the Rockaway Beach division of the Long Island railroad this week. Results of the operations will be watched with anxiety by railroad managers, for upon this success will likely depend a revolution in suburban railroad service for passenger trains. The Long Island service will be watched with more than usual interest by the Pennsylvania system officials. If it proves efficient and less expensive than the old method, it is not improbable that the Pennsylvania system will extend the electric service over its lines adjacent to New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and other large cities. Although the first trains are run on the Rockaway Beach division, a distance of 20 miles from Flatbush avenue terminal, the third rail has been laid on 70 miles and a corresponding length of track is ready for electric operation. It is also planned to electrify the Manhattan Beach line and the North Shore branch to Whitestone and Port Washington.

That electric motive power for passenger service on steam railroads is receiving close attention and study, particularly from the higher officers of American railroads, is evident from the often reported tests. A number of western lines, including the Burlington and the Missouri Pacific, have installed gasoline motor cars on branch lines and for some of the suburban service to afford a quicker service with many stops. Up to this time the most aggressive road in the east in the matter of electric power for passenger service on longer runs has been the New York Central & Hudson River, and it is said that there would be little surprise if electric motive power would be placed in use by this road for some of its fast trains. Officials, it is known, are well pleased with the several tests made between the electric locomotive No. 6,000 and regular steam passenger engines. The New York Central purchased a number of interurban electric lines in New York as feeders for its main line, and the recent tour of W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., over Northern Ohio electric interurban lines has led to the report that the road intends to secure similar feeders for the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, Big Four and other lines in Ohio and Indiana.

There has been considerable interest shown also regarding the installation of electric engines for shifting in the passenger terminals. It is claimed that such power for shifting would not only give quicker service, but would also relieve the terminals of much of the noise and all of the dirt of the steam engines.

Good Promotion for Totten.

George D. Totten has been advanced from traveling passenger agent of the Rock Island-Frisco system in the territory east of Pittsburgh to city passenger and ticket agent of the Rock Island at Chicago, effective July 11. The promotion came to him after only a little more than six months of service in Pittsburgh, but during that period he gained a wide acquaintance and has done efficient service for the roads he represented. After a brief service with the Lake Shore ticket auditing offices at Chicago he entered the Rock Island ticket auditing offices at Chicago as office boy in 1896, working himself up to rate clerk, from which position he was transferred to night ticket agent at Chicago. He was promoted from that position to traveling passenger agent in Pittsburgh.

This promotion from the Pittsburgh office leaves two vacancies here, the other being caused by the death of the general agent, Daniel H. Maloney. There will also be a district passenger agent appointed here. Thus there are three positions to be filled. It is reported that there has been some dissatisfaction in the Rock Island and Frisco traffic departments over the operation of joint offices for the two roads at some other points, and that there will likely be a more distinct division in the future. Local representatives of the roads know nothing of this matter.

Atterbury Comes to Pittsburgh.

W. W. Atterbury, general manager of the Pennsylvania railroad, arrived in Pittsburgh last night in his private car. He was accompanied by a few of his staff officers. The party will remain in Pittsburgh this forenoon to confer with local officers of the lines east and west and to look over the Pittsburgh terminals. About noon the party will go east.

General Manager Atterbury spent yesterday looking over the new work of the Pennsylvania at Altoona and Hollidaysburg, where some of the new shops have been opened and others are just in course of construction. At Altoona the new pattern shops and storehouse at the South Altoona foundries were opened and the transfer of patterns was begun. The building is fire proof and will thus protect the 50,000 or more patterns stored in it. The foundation work for the machine shop, boiler house, office building and power house at East Hollidaysburg, in connection with the freight classification yards, has been completed, while the foundation work for three other buildings is under way. This is Mr. Atterbury's first visit to the divisions west of Altoona for some time.

Mac Watters Gets Another Road.

Word was received in Pittsburgh yesterday that David C. Mac Watters, general passenger and ticket agent of the Colorado Springs & Cripple Creek District railway, has been appointed general passenger agent of the Cripple Creek Central railway lines, comprising four roads with a total mileage of 130 miles. He succeeds Joseph B. Wiggenborn, resigned. The change is said to be due to a combination traffic agreement between the Colorado Springs road and the Cripple Creek Central lines as a means of averting a rate war. The changes include also the appointment of Superintendent F. C. Smith of the Colorado Springs road to the superintendency also of the Cripple Creek Central lines in charge of operations, and of General Freight Agent L. C. Matlock of the Midland Terminal (one of the Cripple Creek Central lines) as traffic manager of all of the Cripple Creek lines.

President Yates Optimistic.

President A. G. Yates of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railway came to Pittsburgh yesterday morning and left at 10:30 o'clock with General Superintendent W. T. Noonan, Superintendent A. J. Johnston and several coal and ore men for a tour of the company's properties. About two days will be spent looking over the road to New Castle and over the Indiana branch. Mr. Yates says that this branch is proving one of the best ventures the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh ever made. He says that the traffic over the road was never better, and that this will undoubtedly be a banner year for the company's railroad and coal properties.

Promotion for J. G. Bloom.

J. G. Bloom, formerly connected with the engineering department of the Baltimore & Ohio, has been promoted from one of the four positions as principal assistant engineer of the Rock Island to engineer maintenance of way of the southwestern and Choctaw districts, with headquarters at Topeka, Kan. W. S. Tinsman, who is also well-known in local railroad circles, has been promoted from superintendent of the Rock Island's Missouri division to general superintendent of the Choctaw district at Little Rock, Ark.

Railroad Notes.

Charles F. Wolf, traveling freight agent of the Clover Leaf at Toledo, was a Pittsburgh visitor.

H. M. Matthews, general coal and coke agent of the Baltimore & Ohio, returned to Baltimore last night.

Dennie Flanigan, clerk in the Union line offices in the Union station, has been enjoying the past week in a visit to Milwaukee.

Pennsylvania railroad coal and coke tonnage for the week ended July 8 amounted to 896,738 tons, the bituminous tonnage being 667,823, and the coke tonnage 188,855.

Walter Thayer, eastern manager of the Erie & Western Transportation Company, the "Anchor Line," was here from Philadelphia, looking after his company's interest.

H. C. Clevenger, general freight agent of the Cumberland Valley railroad, is spending a couple of days here. He was formerly special agent of the Pennsylvania's traffic department here.

T. D. Parrack, agent of the Atlantic Coast Despatch in this territory, has gone south to join a party of agents of the Despatch and of lines covered by it. The party will tour all of the lines, occupying about 12 days.

W. H. Barnes, president of the Allegheny Valley Railway Company and the Western New York & Pennsylvania railroad, and a veteran director of the Pennsylvania, was the recipient of numerous congratulations and beautiful flowers on his 67th birthday Wednesday.

W. P. Borland, contracting agent of the Santa Fe in Pittsburgh, has entered into a contract other than for freight haul over the road he represents. This contract is in the form of a marriage certificate, signed by himself and Miss Marie Bonner of Washington, D. C. The happy couple have taken up their residence in Darlington road, East End.

LOCAL ELKS CLUB GETS A NEW NAME

"Denver Club" Is Formed and Will Go 1,000 Strong to Meeting Next Year.

BUFFALO WAS CHILLY

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM JOHN P. COWAN, Staff Correspondent.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 13.—Allegheny county Elks lodges will send a delegation of over 1,000 to the reunion at Denver next year. The "Buffalo club," which was instrumental in booming the trip to the present convention, today changed its name to the "Denver club" and immediately began recruiting for the next Elks' national gathering in the Colorado metropolis. The chilly reception which was given the visitors by Buffalo is largely instrumental in securing promises for a large contingent for next year's meeting.

The characteristic hospitality of the western and southern visitors at once won the Allegheny county grand lodge delegates to support Denver, and it is predicted that Pittsburgh will be represented with a larger contingent than at any previous meetings. The Denverites have been busy getting acquainted with the western Pennsylvanians, and assurance has been given that the Denver club will go from Pittsburgh with 1,000 men in uniform. The citizens of Denver promised the Elks the appointment of their own chief of police if the convention could be secured for that city, and this morning the exalted ruler of the Denver lodge received a telegram stating that the promise was made good at a ratification meeting of the people at home.

A movement is on foot to change the grand lodge meetings to triennial sessions and this may be done next year. If the annual convention is abandoned, state reunions will be held yearly instead.

"The order in Allegheny county has become so strong that we expect to hold an annual meeting among ourselves also," said A. A. Grubbs of Allegheny lodge No. 399. "It is proposed to hold an Elk day for Allegheny county members next summer in some of the parks. The Denver club then will be in fine shape with a large body of men thoroughly uniformed and equipped. Frequent turnouts and dress parades would put the men in training to make a showing second to none in next year's parade."

The majority of the Allegheny county contingent returned home this afternoon and the last of the party will leave tomorrow. A number of Pittsburghers started on vacation journeys to Canada and on the lakes.

The committee on parade prizes announced its decisions as follows: Best appearing lodge in parade, Toledo lodge No. 54, first prize of $50; Detroit lodge No. 34, second prize of $100 silk banner. Most unique uniform, single prize, $50, awarded to Cleveland lodge No. 18; greatest mileage, $50, El Paso lodge, No. 187; lodge accompanied by greatest number ladies, $500, Bridgeport, (Conn.) Lodge No. 187; lodge having greatest number in line, nearby lodges barred, $50, Rochester first, Lockport second.

LAWYER HUMMEL'S SETBACK.

Famous New York Divorce Lawyer Receives a Severe Talk from Judge.

NEW YORK, July 13.—(Special.)—Abraham H. Hummel, the well-known criminal lawyer, under indictment charged with conspiracy and subornation of perjury in connection with the Dodge-Morse divorce case, today received the most serious setback he has yet had in his fight to prevent District Attorney Jerome from forcing him to trial. Justice Davy, in the criminal branch of the supreme court, denied Hummel's motion to inspect the grand jury minutes.

When the case came up today the defendants and their attorneys were in court. Justice Davy said: "I have examined the testimony taken before the grand jury and in my opinion there is sufficient evidence to sustain the indictments, and I might say sufficient evidence to warrant a conviction."

THE SERVANT GIRL PROBLEM.

Appleton Mesdames Are Educating and Employing Indians for Cooks.

APPLETON, WIS., July 13.—The servant girl problem in this district has been partially solved by the employment of Indian girls who have graduated from the government school. Several are now in the kitchens of families here.

They have all taken courses in domestic science at the school, and their work is praised by their employers. From 30 to 40 more from Oneida reservation will graduate shortly. Among those employed here now, one is a graduate of Lincoln institute, Philadelphia, and two are graduates of the Hampton school in Virginia.

No Saturday Half Holiday.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Secretary Bonaparte forwarded his decision in the matter of the Saturday half-holiday for the employes of the Washington navy yard during the summer to the department from Baltimore today. The secretary has carefully considered the subject and concludes that the half holiday requested cannot be granted, owing to the necessity for strict economy on the part of this department.

B. & O. Adds Fast Freight Train.

The Baltimore & Ohio on Wednesday placed into service a new high-class perishable freight train between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh. The train leaves Cincinnati daily at 8:45 o'clock a. m. and arrives in Pittsburgh at 4 o'clock the next morning, delivering perishable freight to the local produce yards. It is likely that a connection will also be added to this train at Cincinnati from St. Louis. The trains haul all classes of perishable freight.

Drink of Beer Saves a Life.

NEW YORK, July 13.—(Special.)—By the blowing off of the stone cap of a chimney, John Sheedy, 24 years old, was killed instantly, while sleeping on the roof, early today. His companion, Gus Lindstrom, was saved from a similar fate only because he got up to get a drink of beer just before the cap fell.

Reward Offered for Stolen Jewels.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 13.—(Special.)—Charles M. Oelrichs has decided to offer a reward of $400 for the return of Mrs. Oelrich's jewels, which were stolen Tuesday afternoon from their villa in Kay street. No questions will be asked. The police are now satisfied the robbers knew the premises perfectly.

SIX PHYSICIANS

FOUND THIS CASE OF RHEUMATISM BEYOND THEIR SKILL.

Mr. Jones Tells of the Way by Which He Treated Himself Successfully When Doctors Failed.

Six physicians, all of them good, one of them a specialist, had done their best for Mr. Jones at different times during three years, and still he suffered fearfully from the tortures of rheumatism.

He had felt occasional twinges first in January, 1901, and in February of that year he was compelled to give up and to take to his bed for a siege of two weeks. From that time on for a period of more than three years, until the fall of 1904, he was a constant sufferer.

Of his condition during this time, Mr. Jones says: "My rheumatism started in my right thigh, but in time it spread throughout my body. I lost the use of my left arm entirely and nearly lost the use of my right one. My feet were badly affected, especially the bottoms of the heels. When my right side was affected there was swelling, but the left side didn't swell when the disease settled there. The internal organs didn't seem to be involved at all. The trouble was all in the muscles and the nerves."

Among the few who still encouraged Mr. Jones to think that a cure might yet be found in spite of the many disappointments he had suffered was a friend who had reason for great confidence in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and acting on her advice he bought a box of them in September, 1904. The story of what followed is brief, but nothing could be more satisfactory, for a perfect cure was at last found.

"When I was on the third box," says Mr. Jones, "I could realize a change for the better. I felt sure then that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were the right medicine for my case. So I kept on and now I am entirely well, and everybody is asking what I took. I wasted a great deal of money on useless treatment, but the little I spent for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills was invested right."

Mr. William Jones lives at Oxford, Mich., and is well known through Oakland and Lapeer counties. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills effect wonderful cures in rheumatism, because they work directly on the blood, which is the seat of the disease. As soon as that is cleansed and enriched pains and swellings disappear. No other remedy can compare with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a blood builder and nerve tonic. They are sold by every druggist. The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., will send a valuable booklet on "Diseases of the Blood," to anyone who writes for it.
